BOLTING

Those fire-eating progressive senators have decided each shall conduct his own show in the coming campaign.

They held a series of secret conferences recently. The idea was to form an organization bolting the Republican ticket for Roosevelt. From seven to 10 are definitely anti-Hoover in their personal thoughts.

They decided they could do better if each went on his own. Each will handle his own state separately. The local political situation will be the guiding factor in the course each follows.

Some will announce for Roosevelt openly as the times seem fit. A larger number will sit on the sidelines and slyly poke fun at the Hoover ticket without endorsing Roosevelt. The rest will keep their mouths shut.

Under cover they will all be for Roosevelt.

That course may not be very courageous. However, it is sensible from a practical aspect. The only man behind whom they could organize as a unit would be Senator Borah. He does not want to lead such a movement.

The group are candidates for re-election on the Republican ticket—Blaine in Wisconsin and Nye in North Dakota. Bolting would cause them some personal complications.

Slight-of-hand work by the group may prove more effective than open espousal of the Roosevelt cause. It will give Mr. Hoover's managers a problem in western states, and may cause him some sleepless nights.

REPEAL

The dries are trading on Borah's name. They know he does not intend to affiliate with a third party. He advised them privately to confine their activities to the election of dry senators and representatives.

But the eighteenth amendment cannot be repealed no matter how the presidential candidates stand.

That is what they will do in the end.

REPORTERS

Just as no man is a hero to his valet, no politician is a hero to the newspaper reporters who are close to him.

The Albany correspondents have little friendship for Gov. Franklin Roosevelt. They claim he has vacillated.

The Washington crowd fell out with Garner again after his nomination. He hid from them when the nominating speech was being made. Movie men who wanted to take his picture were told to go. There was a noticeable absence of statements from him in the press.

Garner privately explained he had not fully recovered from his recent illness and was feeling irritable.

BACKSTAGE

The progressives pulled the strings that directed legislation in these closing days of congress.

They started a private filibuster under cover, demanding two bills—farm relief and the Glass inflation measure. Assistant Republican Floor Leader McNary worked closely with them, hoping to keep them quiet.

The truth is it was they were unable to devise a farm bill that had any chance of passing.

Even Senator Glass was not very strong for his inflation bill. In fact it might be safely said he was opposed to it. He claimed he had introduced it only to block a worse measure from the house—the Goldborough bill.

Senators LaFollette and Borah were behind Nockeb and Brookhart in arranging preferred relief for farmers under the R.F.C. relief bill. That is the only thing they had a chance to get. The way was blocked on both the farm and Glass bills.

Democrats lent a private helping hand to the progressives. They wanted to keep congress in session until after their convention. They will give up a big publicity forum when both houses adjourn.

BLOCKING

Garner was the big noise in arranging the final form of the relief bill. He devoted himself ardently to the cause of preventing the president from getting what he wanted.

Senator Wagner yielded to the

World Bank Urges Return To Gold Standard

DECISION OF BOARD MADE AT MEETING

Governor of Bank of England One of Those to Sign Resolution Today

CALL COUNCIL MEET

Presages Britain's Intention of Re-establishing of Gold Standard

BASLE, Switzerland, July 11.—(UP)—The board of the World Bank voted unanimously today for a resolution recommending that a return to the gold standard is the best solution of the world crisis.

Montagu Norman, governor of the Bank of England, was one of those endorsing the resolution.

Sweden and Japan also signed it. The resolution was considered the first public announcement of the non-gold nations of their attitude, and particularly of Britain's intention of re-establishing the gold standard.

The resolution said restoration of the gold standard requires first, freedom for the movement of goods, services and capital; secondly, completion of the reparations solution reached at Lausanne by a satisfactory solution of war debts, and thirdly, equilibrium of national budgets.

A special meeting of the League of Nations council has been tentatively set for Thursday to prepare for a world economic conference in October, probably at Geneva.

Norman signed the gold resolution by proxy, having left for England before it was completed.

The decision was considered the most far-reaching yet made by world bankers, because the 55 members of the board, representing 10 nations and including nine governors of banks of issue, agree that re-establishment of the gold standard is "the best available monetary mechanism."

The board granted a three-months' extension of World Bank loans to Austria, Hungary and Yugoslavia.

Gates W. McGarrath, head of the board, was empowered to take the necessary steps to expedite the bank's part in the Lausanne agreement, and to appoint representatives to the world economic conference.

The board will meet again not later than Sept. 19.

SMALL MOUTH BASS PLACED IN STREAMS

SACRAMENTO, July 11.—(UP)—Small mouth bass may become a popular game fish for California anglers in the future, if an experiment announced today by the state fish and game commission proves successful.

The commission first propagated the fish at an experimental station at Friant, Fresno county. As a result, plans are now being made to stock scores of California streams and lakes.

Last week, George Neals, head of the bureau of fish rescue, shipped 2,000 fingerlings to Friant. Several hundred mature bass have been placed in ponds for breeding purposes and it is believed a brood stock will be available next year to supply thousands for California streams.

REYNOLDS' WIDOW CALLED IN INQUEST

REYNOLDS ESTATE, WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., July 11.—(UP)—Libby Holman today was called before the coroner's inquest into the death of Smith Reynolds, her husband, to tell again her story how the young tobacco heir received the wound which caused his death.

Reynolds, son and heir of the millionaire tobacco merchant, R. J. Reynolds, died Wednesday morning of a pistol wound. His wife, Libby Holman, New York Blues singer, and Albert Walker, his companion, are held as material witnesses.

The inquest today met in the den of the great Reynolds mansion house. Directly above was the room where Reynolds was shot.

Peeved Hitch Hiker Heaves Apple at Car

SANTA MONICA, Cal., July 11.—(UP)—His repeated "thumping" for a ride on Roosevelt highway brought Fred P. Foreman no results.

When the Rev. W. G. Burch of La Mesa failed to pick him up, Foreman hurled an apple through the windshield, cutting the minister's face and hands.

But Foreman failed to notice that State Highway Patrolman T. A. Richards was riding behind the Rev. Burch. Richards took the peevish hitch-hiker before Judge John L. Webster at Malibu, and the latter sent Foreman to jail for 60 days to cool off.

CURTIS GIVEN YEAR SENTENCE IN STATE JAIL

Perpetrator of Lindy Hoax Also Must Pay Fine of Thousand Dollars

FLEMINGTON, N. J., July 11.—(UP)—John Hughes Curtis, the Norfolk, Va. shipbuilder, was sentenced to a year in state prison and $1000 fine here today.

He had been found guilty of obstructing justice in the Lindbergh kidnapping case.

Curtis, convicted July 2, had faced a maximum of three years in prison and a $1000 fine. The jury, however, recommended mercy.

In imposing sentence, Judge Adam O. Robbins overruled a motion by defense to set aside the verdict and ignored a plea of Lloyd Fisher, of defense counsel, in which Fisher presented 18 technical points in favor of his motion.

Fisher argued the verdict was contrary to the judge's charge, contrary to the weight of evidence, and that it was the result of prejudice.

Curtis, at the time of his arrest following the discovery of the Lindbergh baby's murdered body, confessed, authorities said, to a cruel hoax for profit and gain. This "confession" later was repudiated.

At the trial federal agents testified they believed Curtis had been in communication with the actual kidnapers. Judge Robbins, in his charge to the jury, stated that Curtis could be found guilty of obstructing justice only if the evidence showed he was in touch with the actual kidnapers.

Colonel Lindbergh, who sat at the prosecution table throughout the trial, was not present today.

In imposing sentence Judge Robbins said:

"In all by 10 years on the bench I have never given a matter of sentence so much consideration as I have in your case. The jury recommended mercy and there is evidence that you are a respected citizen. But these matters cannot sway the court. I sentence you, therefore, to one year in state prison and fine you $1000."

Curtis, attired in a light gray suit, was unmoved as Judge Robbins pronounced sentence.

"You can hardly expect me to say anything just now," he said when questioned.

Fisher attacked the presence of Colonel Lindbergh at the trial, saying there was "no good reason for it."

"There he sat for the sole purpose of prejudicing the jury. Curtis was convicted in a courtroom steeped with prejudice," Fisher said.

California Pivot State In Election

Democrats Planning to Carry Fight to President's Home State

WASHINGTON, July 11.—(UP)—California is to be a real battle ground in the presidential election this year.

Democrats are preparing to carry their fight into President Hoover's home state.

At the White House it is said President Hoover does not intend to go to California during the campaign. He canceled plans to open the Olympic games at Los Angeles. But his opponent, Governor Roosevelt, is going.

Democrats are preparing to carry their fight into President Hoover's home state.

The prize is greater this year than ever before. California will cast 23 electoral votes in November. Nine votes were gained through the recent reapportionment under the new census.

This is the first time Democrats have given more than perfunctory thought to California since 1916 when Republicans, through one neglected handshake, lost the senate and the White House. Remembering that it is the firm intention of the Democratic nominees to leave no hand unshaken in California this year.

Normally the state is at least two to one Republican. Sometimes it is three and four to one. Democratic hopes are built on these considerations:

1. Senator Hiram Johnson, idol of California progressives, has condemned President Hoover and lauded Governor Roosevelt. He has not bolted the Republican ticket but he has publicly told his friends that he likes Roosevelt better.

Should he openly support Roosevelt later, Democratic chances in California would be rated good.

2. Republican registration in California dropped 238,000. Democratic registrations gained 389,000, according to Democratic national figures. In the recent Democratic primary, Democrats polled a total of more than 520,000 votes, not far short of the total vote for Alfred E. Smith four years ago. These signs lead Democratic poll-

TREASURY HEADS TO ASSIST IN INQUIRY

WASHINGTON, July 11.—(UP)—The treasury department, represented by Acting Secretary A. A. Ballantine, today announced its willingness to cooperate in a congressional investigation of the department, but coupled this statement with broad hints of political purposes behind such an inquiry.

No facts have been submitted suggesting any warrant for an investigation," Ballantine told the house rules committee which is considering an investigation resolution.

"If the speaker in his new role (Democratic vice presidential nominee) determines upon an investigation at this time the treasury stands ready to cooperate, even though this action does not seem particularly in line with the purpose of eliminating commissions and investigations."

Roosevelt and Sons Start On Ocean Trip

PORT JEFFERSON, I. I., July 11.—(UP)—Glad in a smart business suit with a gray felt hat, Franklin Delano Roosevelt, Democratic candidate for the presidency, set sail today for a seven-day ocean cruise.

Cheered loudly by more than a thousand persons, he went aboard the 40-foot yawl and inspected it closely. He examined the sails and said: "Gee, she's a fine boat."

Three of his sons accompanied him—James, John and Franklin Jr.

SENATE VOTES EXPANSION OF BANK CURRENCY

Will Issue Bank Notes to National Institutions With Federal Bonds

WASHINGTON, July 11.—(UP)—The senate voted today, 53 to 18, to expand the nation's currency by almost $1,000,000,000 by issuing bank notes to national banks with federal bonds bearing 3 3/8 per cent interest or less as security.

The action came on an amendment by Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, to the home loan bank bill, and was followed by a renewal on the part of Senator Bingham, Republican, Connecticut, to attach a "rider" to the loan bank bill providing for the legalization and taxation of 2.75 per cent beer.

The Borah amendment was reported favorably by the senate banking and currency committee as a substitute for the Goldborough bill passed by the house.

Bingham withdrew his beer amendment pending disposal of the currency expansion measure, after Borah had proposed the currency measure in such a way that, if passed, it would have killed the Bingham rider.

BONUS ARMY HEAD SUBJECT OF ATTACK

WASHINGTON, July 11.—(UP)—A charge that Walter W. Waters, commander of the bonus expeditionary force, frequently deserted the veterans and "took orders from the White House" was made today by Harold B. Folkl, former legislative chairman for the ex-soldiers.

He said Waters was trying to "split the Hoover protest vote so that we may continue to have the most inefficient president we have ever had."

"The weak, ignorant, inefficient leadership of W. W. Waters," Folkl declared, "has resulted in many of the best friends of the B. E. F. withdrawing support and food. It is absolutely necessary to have members of the B. E. F. get back to their election districts and register so they will be qualified voters in November."

Cattle And Hog Market In Advance

New Feeling of Optimism is Spreading to Industrial Neighbors

CHICAGO, July 11.—(UP)—Squealing pigs on thousands of American farms today shrilled a message of cheer as experts estimated the nation's swine worth $250,000,000 more on paper than six weeks ago.

The fattening porkers were leaders in a commodity price rise which analysts hope will go far to shake the gloom of the long depression.

For the broad backs of the hogs which provide an eighth of the country's farm income are carrying an advance which was spreading today to nearly all of America's agricultural commodities.

Beef cattle sold at quotations 33 per cent above those of May. Lambs are 25 per cent higher. Butter is advancing steadily. Grains are up. Cotton prices are better.

The total potential buying power of the farmer has been increased by millions. The farmer, economists point out, is the backbone of national prosperity.

A new feeling of optimism was spreading from farming communities to their industrial neighbors today as the gains of the past month were counted.

The greatest part of the profit from the better prices is going direct to the growers, figures showed. The price increase has not yet spread to products in the hands of packers.

Though increases in grain quotations have been small compared with those for livestock, market experts believe grains will benefit extensively by the bettered hog and cattle prices. This movement is being retarded somewhat it was believed by the imminence of the new harvest.

M.E. CHURCH SOUTH PARLEY THIS WEEK

SACRAMENTO, July 11.—(UP)—Delegates numbering more than 500 are expected to attend the 2nd annual Pacific conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, which opens here Wednesday and continues through Sunday.

All churches of the denomination in California will send delegates. Lieutenant Governor Frank E. McFarland will welcome the conference at its opening session, presided over by Bishop Arthur J. Moore.

The Rev. R. P. "Bob" Shuler of Los Angeles, candidate for congress, will give the annual preaching service tomorrow night preceding the opening of the conference. Appearances and transfers will be made Sunday night for the new district.

MRS. ST. PIERRE IS AWARDED DAMAGES

LOS ANGELES, July 11.—(UP)—Mrs. Myrtle H. St. Pierre, comely brunette nurse, saw little opportunity today to collect, at least immediately, the $5000 breach of promise verdict she won Saturday from David L. Hutton, husband of Almee Temple MacPherson Hutton, evangelist.

Hutton, in addition to announcing an appeal to "the highest courts," declared he was "broke."

"That St. Pierre woman won't get a red cent out of me," he said, "because I haven't got one."

GOVERNOR EXPECTS TO SUMMON SOLONS

OAKLAND, July 11.—(UP)—Unlabeled persuaded otherwise, Gov. James Rolph, Jr., today expected to order an extra session of the state legislature to make possible the start of the proposed $375,000,000 statewide water conservation program.

The governor called a meeting of his advisory water commission and the legislature's war commission today to discuss the advisability of a special session. Rolph favors immediate action in the matter.

A constitutional amendment and a $160,000,000 bond issue for projects in the Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys would be necessary to start the conservation program.

Here's Biggest Fish Story Of This Season

SACRAMENTO, Cal., July 11.—(UP)—Two Sacramento youths today told what is believed to be the "biggest fish story" of the year.

Robert and Jack Vance, 14 and 15, went swimming in the American river. One of the boys made a dive in a quiet pool and landed plop on a 40-pound salmon.

Wrestling with the big fish the youth yelled for his brother, who proceeded to club the salmon to death.

The boys then proceeded to cut up the fish and brought him home in their bathing suits.

20,000 ATTEND DEDICATION AT LOCAL AIRPORT

Afternoon and Evening of Flying Stunts Held at Martin's Field

TWENTY THOUSAND people were estimated to have been in attendance during the day at the dedication of the new $4000 lighting system at the Eddie Martin airport, South Main street yesterday, where the new equipment of boundary lights makes the airport of class A rating. Motor cars lined both sides of the highway from the airport to the Pauline school and other nearby roads as well.

A parachute jump from 2000 feet altitude made by "Herby" Stark at 1 o'clock, started the maneuvers for the afternoon. Due to the heavy fog which kept planes from arriving earlier, no stunts were held in the morning. Stark is the holder of the world's record for endurance in 'chute jumps, having made nine consecutive jumps in one day at the Eddie Martin airport last February.

Promptly at 1:20 o'clock, the roar of six army planes came within sound, and after beautiful squadron flying overhead for 10 minutes, made perfect three point landings, each one diving from a higher altitude as it landed, with the last one

ILLEGAL OPERATION IS CAUSE OF DEATH

BERKELEY, July 11.—(UP)—An illegal operation allegedly caused the death of Mrs. Lena Raymond, 24, deputy assessor of Tehama county, Berkeley police charged today.

The young woman came to the Berkeley general hospital when she became ill after the operation, and died of a general peritonitis condition, according to Dr. E. V. Tiffany, Alameda county autopsy surgeon.

Police said they had learned she was the bride of Byron Raymond, and had submitted to the operation in Redding for fear that she might lose her position if it became known she was married.

PLAN STEEL PLANT NEAR HOOVER DAM

NEW YORK, July 11.—(UP)—Plans for the erection of a steel assembly plant at Las Vegas, Nev., in connection with the construction of the Hoover dam were being prepared today by Babcock & Wilcox, Inc., of New York.

Work on the structure, which will be supervised by Isaac Harter, vice president of the company, will be started early in August. Details as to the plant's capacity or its personnel have not been completed, officials said.

MEASURE IS SENT BACK TO CONGRESS

Message Dispatched 10 Minutes After Bill is Received at White House

URGES COMPROMISE

President Says Bill Violates Every Sound Principle of Government

WASHINGTON, July 11.—(UP)—President Hoover today sent to congress a prompt and vigorous veto of the $2,122,000,000 Wagner-Garner unemployment relief bill.

The president's veto message was dispatched from the White House less than 10 minutes after the bill, passed by both houses in defiance of Mr. Hoover's relief views, was received from congress.

Mr. Hoover said the Wagner-Garner bill "violates every sound principle of public finance and of government."

"Never before has so dangerous a suggestion been seriously made to our country," the president said.

Mr. Hoover urged enactment of a compromise relief bill, which, he said, should be based around the following proposals: His had made previously. These proposals, Mr. Hoover said, should embrace:

"First: Title I of H. R. 12445, the act now under consideration, covering provisions for loans to states in amount of $300,000,000 for the care of distress in states where needed.

"Second: Title III of this act, with the provision made applicable to all parts of the title except for roads and trails, that such works shall not be initiated except on certificate of the secretary of the treasury that the funds necessary are available and can be obtained without interference with the current financing operations of the government.

"Third: That there should be

DEBT PACT SUCCESS DEPENDS UPON U. S.

PARIS, July 11.—(UP)—The Lausanne agreement to end reparations depends upon reduction of war debts by the United States, Premier Edouard Herriot said when he returned from the conference.

"In case the United States does not agree to debt reduction, France will remain in her previous position," the premier said.

That means that the entire reparations problem would have to be gone over again on the basis established by the Hoover moratorium.

"That was the extent of our engagement at Lausanne," Herriot continued. "Everything else is subordinate to the French parliamentary vote."

WILL ROGERS SAYS:

MULESHOE, (Tex.) July 11.—(To the Editor of The Register):—Well sir don't you think things are looking better. They are among the stock raisers and farmers. I have always maintained that the Republicans this summer before election would with all their influence and money power create an amateur prosperity enough to make folks think things were on the upgrade and not to change horses. You know it's not going to take much to make us think we are doing fine. No wheat, or white meat, just the wing and the old back will taste like a banquet to us now. I think too just promising the people some beer made everybody feel better even if they know they will die of old age before they get it.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS

Speedy Race On Highway Foils Suicide Attempt

WIFE OF NAVY MAN RECOVERS IN HOSPITAL

Mrs. Gertrude Smith, 24, wife of Commander S. E. Smith, of the U. S. Navy, was rescued from death yesterday because a member of the California highway patrol, after seeing the car crash, worked too fast and too thoroughly for her.

She is today in the Orange county hospital recovering from the effects of chloroform of mercury tablets, hastily swallowed when she found out she could not outrace Jensen on his motorcycle who had chased her car from a point in San Diego county almost to San Clemente. Hospital attendants said she would recover.

Mrs. Smith left her husband and 40-year-old son at Oceanside yesterday afternoon. A few minutes later the husband found a note pinned to the son's shirt, which notified him that his wife was on her way to Los Angeles "to kill herself."

Smith commanded a car and started in pursuit. After several miles, a connecting rod on the car gave way, leaving the frantic husband stranded. In the meantime, Officer Jensen "picked up" Smith and was chasing him for speeding when the car broke down. Smith explained the case and Jensen took up the race.

Just before San Clemente was reached, the officer overtook Mrs. Smith's car. As the officer blew the siren and ordered her to the side of the road, she remarked: "You're too late, officer."

She then swallowed what the officer saw was white powder. Jensen immediately hurried her off to San Clemente, where she was given first aid treatment and then taken to the Orange county hospital.

making a dive of 2000 feet. All of the planes were Boeing new type pursuit planes of 1921 and 1922 models, and were operated by First Lieutenant J. H. Dulligan, leader, in No. 22, and Second Lieutenants C. L. Sharp in 12, B. H. Hall in 16, M. E. Stalder in 3, C. H. Murray in 25, and R. B. Richard in 23. Much difficulty was experienced in keeping the crowd from unintentionally inflicting the planes, as it had grown particularly air minded during the day, and was determined to thoroughly investigate all planes. The Ryan Broughman, sister ship to the Immortal "Spirit of St. Louis," and owned by the airport, was kept busy throughout the day, giving passenger rides at a nominal sum.

Other Planes Here
Other planes of the field and flown during the day included the second of the three sister ships to the "Spirit of St. Louis," owned by Ralph Mitchell of Santa Ana, the red and yellow shell plane "Steamer," piloted by W. S. "Bill" McClain, chief pilot of the Shell Oil company, from Los Angeles; the "Waco C," one of the few of its type on the Pacific coast, owned and operated by Sid Howland, of Santa Ana; and Burr Chandler and his handsome red, white and blue monoplane, also of this city.

Other guest planes included the Gilmore plane, piloted by Col. Roscoe Turner of Los Angeles, favorite pilot of Governor Rolph, and another Los Angeles monoplane flown by Tommy Thomas, who was accompanied by his wife. Thomas is president of the Pacific Aero-nautic corporation of Los Angeles, and it was through his generosity that the parachute flares were provided for the night plane landings in the evening.

Dudley M. Steele of Los Angeles, for the past several years head of the Richfield Oil company aviation department, with several thousand hours in the air to his credit, and known as the best informed man in aviation on the Pacific coast, acted as master of ceremonies for the afternoon. He was relieved by Dale Decker of the airport for the evening's entertainment.

Bombers Arrive
Interest in the air show was especially enhanced at 2 o'clock by the arrival of three huge twin engine army bombing planes, also from March field. The great aircraft, of 375 horsepower each, and which mount two machine guns each, made smooth three point landings characteristic of March field pilots. They were flown by Second Lieutenants B. Walsh, J. P. McGowan, and Eric Lindine in No. 3, John Cox and R. Waddell in No. 6, and R. C. Hutchinson and Robert Stauffer in No. 6.

Charles "Ace" Jackson, chief flying instructor at the airport, thrilled onlookers with his "deadstick" landing made during the afternoon when he shut off his motor at 2000 feet altitude. This was followed by a replica of the 3 o'clock "chute jump made again at 4 o'clock by "Herby" Stark.

the air including the Immelman turn, half loop, and half roll, made by necessity a dead stick landing. Mrs. Finster whose forced parachute jump at the airport a week ago made her a member of the National Caterpillar association, was forced to turn off her motor while stunting yesterday because of the excessive temperature, which threatened danger of exploding the engine. Peggy Hall, Santa Ana woman pilot and one of the 22 women holders of transport licenses, also performed various stunts in the "Waco C."

Beery Also Here
Arrival of the "Bellanca" all scarlet plane piloted by Wallace Beery, noted screen star and aviator, was greeted by a great throng who surged forward to obtain a better glimpse of the favorite. Beery who is a holder of a transport license which is the highest form of license issued by the Department of Commerce, expressed his delight at being present, but declined to speak over the "mike" owing to a cold.

The most spectacular of death defying "chute jumps" was made at 6 o'clock when "Herby" Stark in the Curtis Challenger Robin piloted by Freddy Burlew, climbed to an altitude of 10,000 feet, falling seven thousand feet at the rate of 160 miles per hour before pulling the rip cord. The plucky daredevil, who is 22 years old and weighs 154 pounds, planned to climb to 12,000 feet and fall 8000 feet without the aid of the "chute," but poor visibility due to the incoming fog prevented this.

Brief dedication remarks were made by Dale Decker, program chairman for yesterday, and the air show was climaxed by four plane landings made after dark by Jimmy James, mail pilot of the Western Air Express. James made the first three landings with one minute flares from 1000 feet altitude, the last landing was made with three-minute flares from 2000 feet altitude.

Refreshment stands and parking were in charge of the American Legion auxiliary drill team. Exactly 1000 were released from the parking fees, half of which will be donated to the Unemployed association. The remainder together with the booth profits, will be used by the drill team to defray its expenses. Sandwiches were furnished pilots and visiting guests by the Charcoal Broiler, while orange juice was provided through the courtesy of Burr Chandler.

CALIFORNIA IS BATTLE GROUND OF DEMOCRATS

tionists to believe that California voters are preparing to desert Palo Alto's first citizen in large numbers.

2.—Democrats have a new aggressive state organization. William G. McAdoo is the candidate for senator. One of the best politicians in the state, John B. Elliott, is one of the managers of the Democratic campaign. This team has long had a feud with the Democratic organization under Isadore Dockweiler, retiring national committeeman.

But Dockweiler was a Roosevelt man months before McAdoo switched California and Texas at Chicago and will be taken care of. So the pacemakers are optimistic.

Democrats elected a senator, James D. Phelan, in 1914. Otherwise they have had starvation fare in California except when Wilson carried the state in 1916 because his Republican opponent, Charles E. Hughes, failed to shake hands with Hiram Johnson, then Republican candidate for the senate. Some have said Hughes did not know Johnson was in the same hotel. Johnson's friends said it was a deliberate snub because he had bolted the party to be Roosevelt's vice presidential candidate four years earlier. It cost the Republicans California and the national election.

Now the Democrats are determined to put on the handsomest campaign they ever tried in California. And if the name of Roosevelt is again magic to Senator McAdoo as it was 20 years ago—well it has elements of a situation as thrilling as anything that has come out of Hollywood scenario mills lately.

CALIFORNIA HISTORY Y LOBBY SUBJECT

Tomorrow evening at the Y. M. C. A. the general public will have an opportunity to hear stories of unfamiliar scenes and incidents in California history, and to see pictures of them, presented by Robert Speed in the regular Tuesday evening popular lobby entertainment which is being featured by the Y. during the summer.

Speed has made careful studies of certain phases of California life, and has been a popular contributor to various magazines and papers on subjects connected with the early days and the out-of-the-way places. He has accumulated a stock of information that is of very great interest to all who care for the stories of our pioneers and their achievements.

speaker at every opportunity. Garner's hatred for Hoover is one of the few sincere things in Washington. It has colored all recent actions of the house.

NOTES

Alice Roosevelt Longworth has always lifted her eyebrows at the Franklin Roosevelts. Her father is supposed to have once referred to Franklin as a "maverick." The Progressives got their first chance to cheer when the North Dakota election returns came in. The Non-Partisan League swept the state. It was an unexpected surprise, but the indications had pointed the other way. Commander Waters of the Bonus Army is trying to mould it into a permanent organization. Yearly dues would be charged and a formidable power created. They could get nearly anything they wanted in Washington—except the bonus. At last a man has been found who put his name in more public places than Rep. Sol Bloom. George Washington Bi-Centennial Commission. The man who has out-bloomer Sol is Mayor Cermak of Chicago. His name was more conspicuous than Roosevelt's during the convention. All welcome signs bore his name in large letters. It was on an armband worn by every policeman. When Roosevelt arrived in the hall, the largest sign was "Welcome to Chicago—Anton J. Cermak."

NEW YORK REAL ESTATE

By James McMullin
Plans are afoot for the construction of a new office building in the Times Square district of New York which will be one hundred feet taller than the Empire State and cost about half as much. Building prices have come down very markedly.

The project is temporarily held up for lack of capital although subscriptions to date run into the millions of dollars and a site has been optioned. Part of the capital already interested is from foreign sources.

Efforts have been made to interest several large corporations in tenancy. Backers estimate that 25 per cent tenancy would yield a profit. Building plans call for air conditioning in every office, double or triple deck elevators, modern office styling, shower baths and other up-to-date gadgets of all kinds. The idea is to make all other office buildings obsolete by contrast. The office building situation in New York is getting no better. Most buildings—even the newest ones—are having a hard time finding and keeping tenants.

The Chase Bank and the Irving Trust Company are a little better off than most landlords in this respect. Many of their tenants have financial relationships with the banks in question which makes it inexpedient to move elsewhere or to demand lower rentals. Even in these cases there have been losses from the liquidation of businesses.

The new Cities Service Building is making a strenuous effort to fill up its space. It is one of the very few important buildings which is held by its owners free and clear of mortgage debt. It is also one of the first to be equipped with double deck elevators although they are not yet in use.

AIR CONDITIONING

Competitive rivalry in the new air conditioning field is being watched with interest. American Radiator, General Motors and General Electric are already active in the field and other companies will probably follow suit.

Rapid forward strides in air conditioning comparable to those in electrical refrigeration are expected in the next few years.

TEACHERS

The Board of Estimate in New York has recently discussed a proposal to cut school teachers' salaries by 15 per cent.

No such action is possible without the sanction of a special session of the legislature. Governor Roosevelt is strongly opposed to the step and it is improbable that any such session will be called. Copyright, 1932, McClure Newspaper Syn.

Japanese Arrested After Threatening Sheriff With Gun

When Sheriff Logan Jackson stopped on West Seventeenth street Saturday afternoon to examine a truck which had been left abandoned at the side of the road, a Japanese walked up to the car with his hand on a pistol. The man, Tadashi Yanagi, 48, a peddler, of 235 West 120th street, Los Angeles, was promptly arrested on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon, the sheriff said. The man was booked at the jail for investigation of a felony.

Sheriff Jackson said Yanagi reported he was shooting "big" birds in the vicinity. The pistol was a "shotgun" pistol, which shoots a .410 gauge shell. It was confiscated.

HOOPER VETOES RELIEF BILL SENDS MESSAGE

substituted for title II the substance of the provisions in the substitute bill introduced by Senator Wagner and passed by the senate, or senate bill 4322, introduced by Senator Barbour or section four of the substitute bill introduced by Representative Hawley. Among them they provide not only loans for construction work on project of self-liquidating character but also essential aids to agriculture.

"Four: That the corporation be authorized to increase its issues of capital by $1,800,000,000 for these purposes.

"With the utmost seriousness," Mr. Hoover said, "I urged the congress to enact a relief measure, but I cannot approve the measure before me fraught as it is with possibilities of misfeasance and special privileges, so impracticable of administration, so dangerous to public credit and so damaging to our whole conception of government relations to the people as to bring far more distress than it will cure."

Of the provision to expend $322,000,000 on public works, Mr. Hoover said:

"I have expressed myself at various times upon the extreme undesirability of increasing expenditure on non-productive public works beyond the $500,000,000 of construction already in the budget. It is an ultimate burden upon the taxpayer. It unbalances the budget after all out efforts to attain that object.

It does not accomplish the purpose in creating employment for which it is designed, as is shown by the reports of the technical heads of the bureau concerned that the total annual direct employment under this program would be less than 100,000 out of the 1,000,000 unemployed.

"Strongly as I feel that this departs from sound public finance, and that it does not accomplish the purpose for which it is instituted, I am not prepared for this reason alone to withhold my assent to the bill provided there is a proper provision that except for expenditure on public roads which is deductible from future appropriations, together with park and forest roads, and trails these works should not be initiated except on certificate of the secretary of the treasury that the money necessary for such expenditure are available, or can be obtained, without interference with current financing operations of the government. The expression of this principle in the present bill is not in this form and is not adequate."

Outlining his opposition to the "individual loans" program, the president's message continued: "This expansion of authority of the Reconstruction Corporation would mean loans against security for any conceivable purpose on anybody who wants money. It would place the government in private business in such fashion as to violate the very principle of public relations upon which we have builded our nation, and renders insecure its very foundations.

Such action would make the Reconstruction Corporation the greatest banking and money lending institution of all history. It would constitute a gigantic centralization of banking and finance to which the American people have been properly opposed for the past one hundred years. The purpose of the expansion is no longer in the spirit of solving a great major emergency but to establish a privilege whether it serves a great national end or not.

"One of the most serious objections is that under the provisions of this bill those amongst 16,000 municipalities and the different states that have failed courageously to meet their responsibilities and to balance their own budgets would dump their financial liabilities and problems upon the federal government. All proper and insuperable difficulties they may confront in providing relief for distress are fully and carefully met under other provisions in the bill.

The board of directors of the reconstruction corporation inform me unanimously that miscellaneous loans under this provision are totally impracticable and unworkable. It would be necessary to set up a huge bureaucracy, to establish branches in every county and town in the United States. The task of organization, of finding competent personnel, would not be a matter of months but of years."

Mrs. Anna Darling Coombs, Los Angeles, lost her life by drowning and not from taking poison, an autopsy by Dr. Elizabeth Tock at the Laguna Beach funeral home Saturday revealed, it was announced today by Coroner Earl Abbey.

The body of Mrs. Coombs was found floating off Laguna early Saturday morning. Presence of a white sediment in a milk bottle found in Mrs. Coombs' car led authorities to believe that she might have taken poison before jumping into the water.

Mrs. Coombs committed suicide on her 45th birthday anniversary. The body was moved late Saturday to Los Angeles, no inquest being held.

Highgrove Man Falls From Car

Al Vaughn, 36, of 735 Main street, Highgrove, is in a critical condition at the Orange county hospital today as the result of a fall from a box car, near Fullerton Saturday night.

Hospital attendants stated he was riding the top of a car when he slipped and fell, receiving internal injuries and concussion of the brain.

Assessment Protests Being Made

Few complaints on assessments have been made by Orange county property owners during the first week when the board of supervisors sat as a board of equalization to adjust assessed valuations of property in the county, according to County Clerk Joe Backs.

Most of the property owners who come before the board are talking taxes instead of assessed valuations, he said, and the board is not considering taxes at the present time.

The board of supervisors will sit as a board of equalization until next Monday, having already held hearings for protests for one week.

DEMOCRATS TO HOLD RALLY HERE TUESDAY

Several hundred Democrats are expected to attend a big rally to be held at the city hall at 8 o'clock tomorrow night when the Roosevelt campaign will be inaugurated.

Claude A. Shutte, president of the Texas club of Los Angeles will be the principal speaker, but talks also will be made by a number of local Democratic candidates for office including D. G. Wetlin, candidate for state senator; Frank Harwood, Democratic candidate for assemblyman; B. Z. McKinney, Democratic candidate for congress and Robert W. Ramsey, candidate for the assembly from the northern end of the county.

Marshall Seacrest announced today that extra chairs would be in readiness to accommodate the crowds expected. The meeting will be held in the city council chambers.

MURDER TRIAL STARTS TODAY IN COURT HERE

Accused of murder, Jose Antolin, Mexican, went on trial for his life in department three of the county superior court late this morning before Judge G. K. Scovel.

Antolin is accused of fatally wounding Eugenio Herrera, a Mexican laborer on the Basian-chury ranch in the section known as "Little Tijuana" on the evening of May 8. Although no evidence has been presented to prove it, it has been said that the quarrel which resulted in Herrera's death was started over a woman.

The dead man's brother, Epifanio Herrera was the first witness called to the box after the jury had been selected this morning. He testified that he had seen Antolin shoot three times at his brother in a small cottage on the ranch, although there was but one wound in his stomach, which caused his death the next day.

The jury trying the case is composed of two women and 10 men.

Deputy District Attorney S. B. Kaufman is handling the prosecution of the case.

Zimbalist Opens Concert Season At Griffith Park

Efrem Zimbalist, noted violinist, opens the celebrity concert season at the new Greek Theater in Griffith park, Los Angeles, next Wednesday night, July 13, at 8:30 o'clock. His pianist accompanist will be Theodore Saldenberg.

Other famous artists on this popular price series include Jose Mojica, Chicago Civic Opera tenor, July 20; Mme. Schumann Heink, distinguished contralto, July 27; Reinald Werrenrath, baritone, August 3; Myra Kinch, dramatic dancer, August 10; and Percy Grainger, pianist, August 17.

On the day following his Green Theater concert, Zimbalist will sail for Japan on the "Tatsuta Maru" to begin a six months' tour of the Orient. He will play as guest soloist with the Tokyo Symphony orchestra.

Zimbalist was born in Rostoff, Russia, in 1889. He made his American debut with the Boston Symphony Orchestra in 1911, and received a brilliant ovation. Since then his popularity has increased until he ranks today as one of the foremost violinists of the world.

Death Notices

A WORD OF COMFORT

As the poet, in his inspired moments, receives back in transfigured form the sufferings and trials of the days which are gone, so shall you live to bless the hard hours when you learned to know yourself as one who would not be overwhelmed by loneliness and grief.

The steadfastness of the love, which your dear one bears toward you, sustains you when you think you are ready to faint and to fall. You rouse yourself in an effort to make a worthy response and unguessed strength wells up in your heart. On you go with new courage, fitting yourself for the reunion on beyond.

SEEK TO CLEAR UP MYSTERY OF DESERT DEATH

In an effort to identify the car in which George Ernest Hillyard, of the Soldiers Home at Sawtelle, is believed to have been murdered near Victorville last Thursday night, sheriff's officers today took Gerald Lage, 15, of 1356 Santiago street, Santa Ana, to San Bernardino.

Lage is a youth who is asserted to have ridden in the car from Laguna Beach last Thursday night, the night the car was reported stolen from there. The car is in the hands of San Bernardino county sheriff's officers, who held it after finding blood on the back seat. The body of Hillyard was found several miles away.

Sheriff Logan Jackson said today that Lage reported that he believed there was something in the back seat at the time he rode in the car, but the sheriff was not inclined to believe that the body was there at the time. Young Lage will be able to identify the car as the same one in which he rode, he said.

Boy Gives Clue The first clue in the investigation by which the sheriff's office at San Bernardino hopes to connect the automobile stolen from Laguna Beach with the murder near Victorville was furnished here last night by Lage, who was reported missing following the disappearance of the car.

The automobile, owned by Everett F. Tawney of Laguna Beach, was stolen from in front of the Community club sometime between 8 p. m. and midnight on Thursday, and was found Friday evening two miles from Helenville. The rear seat of the sedan was splashed with blood and blood was found on the outside of the car. Near Victorville, at about the same time, the mangled body of Hillyard was found on the Santa Fe tracks.

Footprints Similar Although it was apparent that a train had run over the body, San Bernardino county deputy sheriffs are working on the theory that the man was murdered and his body thrown on the tracks to hide the crime. Automobile tracks were found close to where the body was located, and according to the sheriff's office, footprints were found near that spot that corresponded with others found near the abandoned Tawney automobile.

Lage was taken to Laguna Beach last night by Owen R. Owen, director of placement at the Whit-

Baby's Life Saved By Firemen

Two-months-old Nadine Martinez was snatched from the death last night through the use of the rescuators of the Huntington Beach fire department.

The baby who is suffering with whooping cough, had ceased to breathe when she was brought to the Huntington Beach Emergency hospital from her Wintersburg home but at the request of Dr. Ralph Hawes, Henry Wiehart and Lou Hill, firemen, brought the rescuators to the hospital and started the battle to save the infant's life.

After 40 minutes of work the infant began to breathe again and was rushed to the county hospital. It was said today that the baby's condition remains critical.

tier State school, and told Chief of Police Abe W. Johnson that he left a Laguna cafe, where he was employed as a dishwasher, shortly after 10 o'clock Thursday night. He says he went to a poolroom and decided about 11 o'clock to go to his home in Santa Ana. He walked north on the state highway and says he was about five miles from Laguna Beach when he was picked up by a man driving a sedan answering the description of the Tawney car. He described the driver as being tall and thin and wearing a dark suit, a Panama hat, and two-toned shoes.

County Authorities Checking Lage says the driver kept looking back, although he was traveling at 50 miles an hour, and saying, "Some one is following me." At Costa Mesa, the driver let Lage out and took a road that branched off from the Newport road. The youth said there was a blanket in the back seat and that it apparently was covering something. Tawney said later that he nearly always had a blanket in the back seat and usually a pillow and some beach clothing, as the car was used by the family to go between their home and the beach.

According to Owen, Lage has served two terms in the Whittier State school. Lage said he arrived at his home in Santa Ana at 10 o'clock Friday morning. Yesterday afternoon Deputy Sheriffs Zabel and Nicholson of Orange county were in Laguna Beach checking up on the youth's movements when he lived here. They said he would be asked to account for his time from the hour he left Laguna Beach until after the Tawney car was found.

SIX INJURED IN ACCIDENTS OVER WEEK END

The fate that controls highway deaths and serious accidents again smiled at Orange county over the week end, when only five automobile accidents were reported, with six persons hurt.

Traffic throughout the county over the week end was unusually heavy, particularly on the Santa Ana-Newport highway yesterday afternoon, an air meet at the Eddie Martin Airport attracting thousands of visitors. The beach roads were jammed for 48 hours.

Car In Ditch Two men were seriously hurt last night when the car in which they were riding ran off the road, plunged over an embankment and into an irrigation ditch, off the Santa Ana canyon road. They were Jesus Guzman, of 2208 South Hager street, Los Angeles, driver of the car and F. Arreloa, Los Angeles, a passenger in the machine.

Both fell in the irrigation ditch. Guzman suffered concussion of the brain and serious cuts and bruises. Arreloa was badly cut about the face and suffered a broken left arm.

Esther Shultz, of Long Beach, was given first aid treatment at the Orange county hospital Saturday night for injuries received in an automobile accident near Olive, the hospital reported. No report of the crash has been made here.

Mesa Girl Hurt Alice Winterbourne, 12, of Costa Mesa, suffered an injured back, which will probably keep her in a cast for several weeks, following an automobile accident on the Greenville road, a half mile from Greenville.

The car in which she was riding was driven by her mother, Mrs. Alvira Winterbourne, who reported that a car occupied by two youths, forced her car into a ditch, the car all but overturning. The names of the youths were not taken. The girl was injured when she was thrown against the side of the machine. She was taken to the Santa Ana Valley hospital.

Fidel Vasquez, 12, Costa Mesa youth, was reported injured when the car in which he was riding with his brother, John Vasquez, 18, ran into the rear of a machine driven by Leon Wunderlich, 27, of 940 East Chapman street, Orange. The accident occurred at 5 p. m. Saturday a half mile north of Costa Mesa. The boy is not believed to have been badly hurt.

Thrown From Car While turning his car around five miles north of San Clemente late Saturday afternoon the auto's door sprung open and Mrs. L. J. Hudspeth of Murietta was pitched out on the pavement. She suffered a broken right arm and dislocated elbow besides cuts and bruises. She was treated at the San Clemente Community hospital. Her husband was not injured.

Joe Natelli of Laguna Beach was treated early Monday morning for cuts about the face suffered in an auto accident about five miles south of the Spanish Village.

Police News

Joe Wolfe, 64, Santa Ana man, was arrested at 9:30 o'clock last night on a drunk charge. He was found at Fourth and Birch streets and lodged in the county jail.

Burglary of household goods and clothing valued at $300, reported to the police department. Saturday, turned out to be no burglary at all, officers said. Myrtle Morse of 1339 Cypress street reported to the police that her garage had been ransacked during the past several days while she was out of the city. An investigation showed that her landlady, seeing the articles in an unlocked garage removed them for safe keeping.

R. W. Shepard, Santa Ana man, charged with drunkenness, was arrested at 4:30 p. m. Sunday and taken to jail by city police officers.

Pedro Hernandez, 34, Mexican laborer, was arrested at 10:30 o'clock last night and lodged in the county jail for "investigation of a felony." Sheriff Jackson reported the man was being investigated on burglary charges.

John Cole Welch, 49, plasterer, of 1447 East State street, Long Beach, was brought to the county jail Saturday night by Seal Beach officers. He was booked on a charge of possession of liquor.

Possession of liquor, carrying a concealed weapon and drunkenness were all charged to Rellies Munoz, 27, Garden Grove Mexican, following his arrest by Chief Criminal Deputy Sheriff Art Ellis and F. L. Humiston, deputy sheriff, following the man's arrest last night.

August R. Tompler, 38, oil driller, of Santa Ana, was arrested on the Irvine ranch last night and lodged in the county jail on a charge of petty theft of oranges. The arresting officers were Special Deputies Mitchell and Stanley.

ARREST THREE MOTORISTS FOR DRIVING DRUNK

G. W. Nichols, Los Angeles truck driver, was arrested near Westminster late Saturday afternoon, by F. W. Howard, chief of police of Santa Ana, who reported the man was driving his truck while under the influence of liquor. Howard called the sheriff's office and the man was taken to jail by sheriff's deputies.

A pint of liquor was found on his person, according to a sheriff's office report.

Robert Thoms, 25, gasoline station operator of 301 East Ninth street, Long Beach, was arrested by California highway patrol officers at 12:40 a. m. today. The man was taken to the county jail where he was booked on a charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor.

Kenneth C. Fulmer, 20, sign painter of Laguna Beach, was booked at the county jail at 11:35 a. m. yesterday on a charge of driving drunk. He was arrested by California Highway Patrol Officer John Turton on the Coast highway.

Tommy Dunn, 32, Buena Park oilworker, was charged with drunkenness when he was arrested Saturday night at Buena Park by sheriff's officers. He was lodged in jail.

DRIVE AGAINST SPEEDERS TO OPEN TONIGHT

A city drive against speeders will be launched here tonight by city motorcycle officers. Chief of Police F. W. Howard announced today.

Howard is meeting with the motorcycle squad this afternoon to tell them that speeding has increased in Santa Ana, that more accidents are being reported and that he is not pleased with the situation. The drive is to follow.

"In order to save life and limb, it is necessary that drivers of cars use precaution in driving about our streets. The condition here is not as good as it should be. I will instruct the motorcycle officers to pay more attention to speeding and I will expect results immediately," he said.

FARM GROUP IN REGIONAL MEET AT SAN DIEGO

A group of officers and members of the Orange County Farm Bureau attended a regional meeting of the five southern county delegates at a regional meeting held Saturday in San Diego.

The party from this county that attended included R. D. Flaherty, executive secretary of the Farm Bureau and his family; J. A. Smiley, state director, and wife; Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Schroeder, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Heinrichs, of West Orange.

One of the most important questions discussed at the quarterly meeting was whether or not anyone who is not a property owner should have a vote in bond elections, especially with regard to irrigation districts.

A committee on resolutions was appointed with Smiley named as chairman. Each county was entitled to one member on the committee. The committee will make a report on resolutions the Farm Bureau desire to have put before the state meeting at the next regional meeting, which will be held in Santa Ana early in September.

SHOOT AT PAIR HE DISLIKES: LANDS IN JAIL

Just because it may be "customary" to kill a man in Mexico if he doesn't happen to be the type of man who is liked, the same trick does not work in the United States. G. Madena, 49, Delhi Mexican and citizen of Mexico, learned last night.

Madena didn't like F. Perez and Antonio Rodriguez, both of Delhi, so when he saw them walking along the street there early last night, he whipped out a pistol and took two shots at them. Fortunately for them, his marksmanship is not of the best quality. He missed both times.

The police were called and Madena was arrested and the pistol taken from him. Asked for an explanation of his act, he declared that in Mexico, if "you don't like a fellow, you kill him. That's the way they do in my country," he told police.

He was lodged in the county jail, charged with assault with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder, a charge that is far too serious for merely shooting at people you don't like, in Madena's opinion.

MANY ATTRACTED TO VETERANS' PICNIC

The picnic of Spanish War Veterans of Southern California held yesterday at Irvine park was a great success, according to Commanders Charles Winter of Calumet camp, Santa Ana, and O. E. Phillips, of Warwick camp, Fullerton, whose camps were hosts to the many veterans and their families who took part in the event.

A. P. Entenza, of Los Angeles, past national commander of the organization was principal speaker of the day. Other speakers and entertainment features were a part of the program arranged for the enjoyment of the visiting veterans, who, according to estimates, numbered more than 1500.

It was announced that the next picnic of the organization would be held at the National Soldiers' Home at Sawelle in August.

LOWER TAXES

News of the movement for economy in the spending of Public Funds, Supplied by the Committee on Governmental Expenditure and Taxation, California State Chamber of Commerce.

By Charles M. Coleman

Government clings to its habits of spending, seldom heeding the warnings of far-sighted leaders until the stream of gold from the tax mine begins to flow slack and thin.

Eight years ago, the late Wigginton E. Creed, an eminent California attorney and business leader predicted with startling exactness the result of the over-borrowing and over-spending he saw going on at that time. In an article on taxes published in the September, 1924, issue of the Journal of Electricity and reproduced the same month by the California Journal of Development, he wrote:

"The dangerous fact is that our state, county and local governments are spending from 20 to 30 per cent more money than is being collected in the form of taxes, burdensome as these are. At this rate the reservoirs of public credit will be entirely exhausted within a few years, and the revenues available from future taxation, amortized to pay for our present borrowings that a drastic curtailment of government activities will be imperative. Business prudence would naturally suggest that expenditure that can be avoided is preferable to a condition that would leave us no choice. The next generation may urgently need some of the credit we are so lavishly dissipating—may have an almost imperative use for some of the money required to pay interest and amortization charges on bonds we are so freely issuing today."

Not in the next generation but in this one, has that need of the credit then dissipated become urgent and imperative!

COUNTY BUDGET CUTS
Members of the San Joaquin County Board of Supervisors have voted a 10 per cent voluntary reduction of their own $150 monthly salaries.

"Chambers of commerce and other organizations have petitioned the Marin county supervisors to eliminate the 40 cent road tax, cut the allotment to the bridge fund 50 per cent and transfer supervision of all county road and bridge maintenance to the county surveyor."

Fresno county's tentative budget calls for $1,958,382, which is $114,024 less than for 1931-32. A reduction of 10 cents in the general rate is anticipated. Other reductions are under consideration.

SCHOOL EXPENDITURES SLASHED

Modesto—The school tax rate is expected to be cut approximately 40 cents by a reduction in the budget of $80,000. The savings planned include $55,000 by voluntary reduction of teachers' salaries $12,000 in maintenance expense and $25,000 in capital outlay.

Sacramento—The Sacramento board of education has approved a 5 per cent reduction of the pay of all teachers and other employees receiving $1500 and more per year. The reduction will cut $94,000 from the 1932-33 budget, which by the adoption of other major economies will be $329,977 less than that for the year just ended, the equivalent of 30 to 35 cents less in the tax rate.

Vallejo—Economies adopted to reduce the rate by 30 cents to the lowest point in 12 years.

CITIZENS MAKE DEMAND

The Humboldt county tax committee, meeting in joint session with the board of supervisors for consideration of the committee's report of its survey of the county's tax situation, demanded that the government be placed on an expenditure basis comparable to that in effect in 1908 to 1910. Figures were submitted to show that the leading industries of the county are operating with fifty per cent less personnel and payrolls reduced to as low as 25 per cent of the 1928 totals. The committee offered the supervisors its co-operation and pointed out that taxes must be forced down by curtailment of expense to meet the ability of the taxpayers to carry the burden.

COUNTY ORGANIZATIONS ACTIVE

The Fresno County and City Taxpayers League has announced its determination to enroll 5000 taxpayers as members and to continue its campaign for reduction of local and county taxes. The League is promoting the formation of local units throughout the county with affiliation with the parent organization.

El Dorado County Chamber of Commerce has voted to sponsor the formation of a county-wide organization to undertake a tax reduction campaign.

The Tuolumne County Chamber of Commerce has appointed a committee to meet with the board of supervisors for budget consideration.

CONTRA COSTA GRAND JURY

The Contra Costa county grand jury urges, in its official report, a voluntary reduction of 10 per cent in the salaries of all county officials. Other recommendations are a 50 per cent reduction of the number of justices of the peace and the centralization of county purchasing.

CLAIM ENGLAND IS JEALOUS OF CANADA TRADE

By MILTON BRONNER

European Manager, NEA Service
LONDON, July 11.—For the first time in the history of British Imperial Conferences, the one to be held in Ottawa July 21 will have a tremendous direct dollar and cents interest for the United States.

Directly involved is the export trade of the United States as well as the trade of Canadian branches of big American manufacturing firms.

To help the revenues of Great Britain, that country's Parliament last February passed an act which took the country out of the free trade class and made it a protective tariff kingdom. A general ad valorem duty of 10 per cent on all imports was declared.

Furthermore an advisory committee was set up to recommend further increases where necessary to help home manufacturers. The net result to date is that imports from foreign countries now pay anywhere from 10 to 33 1-3 per cent duty.

These duties are not to be levied upon imports from the colonies of the British empire. Until November 15 of this year they are not to be levied on imports from the self-governing dominions nor from India nor mandated territories.

At the Ottawa conference representatives of Great Britain and the dominions will discuss the question of putting up a tariff wall around the British empire. It will be in the nature of a trade preference to the dominions if they, in turn, give a preference to Great Britain.

The latter imports most of her foodstuffs and raw materials, and exports principally manufactured goods. The dominions export principally foodstuffs and raw materials, while importing manufactured goods.

Great Britain would like to sell as much manufactured goods as possible to the dominions, but the dominions have been trying to develop their own home industries by a protective tariff wall. They would not be willing to ruin those industries by having their countries flooded with cheaper British goods. Some compromise will have to be arrived at.

Trade of these dominions with the United States is not to be sneezed at.

According to the last reports the excess of American exports over imports, leaving balances thus in American's favor, were: South Africa, $21,000,000; Australia, $60,000,000; New Zealand, $18,000,000. In each case Great Britain's business with these dominions was greater than America's, but the balance of trade was against Britain and in favor of the dominions.

Canada is in a class all by herself. She and Great Britain are America's best customers. In 1930 the balance of Canadian trade in America's favor was over $332,000,000 whereas with England the balance of trade was in Canada's favor to the tune of $70,000,000. Under this scheme of imperial preference, Great Britain wants to take the bulk of this trade away from America if possible.

There remains the question of the Canadian factory branches of American concerns and whether their products, made within the American raw materials, come within the imperial preference enabling them to be sold in Great Britain and the empire as against foreign goods.

The secretary for the dominions has held that whether such products were entitled to preference depended upon the proportion of their value attributable to empire labor and material which has been

TRUE VALUE OF CO-OPERATION IS DISCUSSED

The value of co-operation was clearly shown in a sermon on that subject which was delivered by the Rev. G. E. Waddle, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, Fifth and Patton streets, yesterday morning. The text was taken from Mark 2:8, "Borne of Four."

Much has been said of the value of co-operation," the minister stated, "and the value of it cannot be overestimated, for to co-operate means to 'work together.' The importance of co-operation is shown in the lesson from which the text is taken. Christ is in Capernaum, perhaps in the house of Peter and the people come in great numbers. In so much that there was no room, not even about the door.

"While the Master is preaching a strange funeral-like procession is seen approaching. It is a bed with the wasted form of a man upon it, supported at each corner by one who walked with a gentle tread and the expression of sympathy on his face. They are the helpless paralytic to the Great Physician. The writer says he was 'borne of four.' We see the value of co-operation in Christian work. Here is a helpless cripple. It is impossible for him to reach the Master. He must have help or he is never to see the Saviour. Who can help him? Four men undertake the task. No doubt they have themselves met the Christ, and are acquainted with His power to heal. They join in hearty and faithful co-operation to bring the man to Christ, each carrying his corner.

"We see a pile of enormous iron links. Singly and apart they are of little value, but combine them into a chain makes them operate on with another and they can hold a great ship to its anchor amid the wildest storm.

"Why is it that a handful of soldiers can disperse an armed mob of twenty times their number? Is it because the soldiers are stronger than the mob, or braver than the civilians? No, it is because the soldier has learned to co-operate. It is what drill means. The power of force is multiplied ten times by co-operation. Therefore we read that 'One can chase a thousand, and two can put ten thousand to flight.'

"When the four reached the place where Jesus was preaching, with their burden of mercy, they found the place so crowded that it seemed impossible to carry out their plan, but faith and determination, backed by whole-hearted co-operation will always find a way. So they uncovered the roof—when they had broken it up they let down the bed wherein the sick of the palsy lay. 'And when Jesus saw their faith, He said to the sick man, 'Son, thy sins be forgiven thee. Take up thy bed and walk.'"

The Public Forum

Communications under this heading must be signed by the name of the writer. These communications express the opinions of the writers of them. The opinions may or may not be the opinions of The Register.

Editor Register: The Orange County Civic League has taken a stand against unwarranted raids on the public treasury, and at this time we want to commend Mayor Paul Witmer for voting against the "contribution" of city tax money to the mess fund of our national guard units, which was approved by the other four members of the city council.

True, the amount of $100 is not large, but the principle, we believe, is unjustified, and opens the way for further contributions and raids which during the year may reach a much larger sum. Last year, in three months time, the various "contributions" from the city treasury reached $5000 and on behalf of the taxpayers, we protested a continuance.

Once the bars are let down, various and sundry organizations, all affiliated in some way with the community, are ready to have their treasuries aided from the tax funds, and last week's denunciation of $100 to the national guard men may bring a dozen similar applications. Uncle Sam pays the guardmen while in camp, besides furnishing clothing, food, and transportation, and this $100 provides luxuries which at this time the taxpayers of Santa Ana cannot afford, especially the hundreds who are out of work.

"Taxation for necessities only" is a timely slogan we recommend to all public bodies, and we protest any further donations of tax money to any organization by the officials whom we elect and pay to protect our interests.

fixed, as a general rule, at 25 per cent, but can be varied.

So there is a chance that these American subsidiaries may be affected by some special rules adopted by the Ottawa conference.

Possibility of the use of silver for currency, supplementary to gold, probably will be discussed also. This question is fraught with significance for the United States because of the possible effect upon the purchasing power of empire money in paying for goods from the U. S. and upon the American silver market.

SUGGESTS PARTY WITHOUT CANDIDATES AS MEANS OF SECURING SOCIAL JUSTICE

Following a discussion of the position of the church and social justice in an address on the subject, "Parties Without Candidates," by W. M. Burke, Santa Ana attorney and member of the board of education, a resolution was adopted by the Open Forum class of the First M. E. Bible school yesterday morning calling for formation of a party which would support candidates of other parties who were in line with the policies of the new party, "to the end that the political party system may function for the public good, for social justice and moral welfare."

The plan is in harmony with suggestions that have been made recently in the Christian Century and the resolution is to be submitted to similar bodies for consideration. It was adopted a week ago by the Open Forum class at the First Congregational church, of which L. L. Boeman is president.

In his address Burke called attention to the fact that there has come to be but little difference between the major parties and that the objectives of leaders of the present parties are selfish rewards, dignities and the power of office.

Demand Growing
"Candidates have become the motivating idea, and principles have been thrown into the discard," he said. "This is illustrated by the local candidates. Find if you can, a candidate who is actuated by the good of the entire party rather than by what he can get out of it for himself. In this nation there has grown a spirit of progress that may be summed up as an overwhelming desire for greater social justice."

"The church has been conservative and realizes that if it should by any active means enter into a scramble for office with its own candidates it would shortly cease to function as a distinctive religious body. But there has grown a feeling in the church that social justice is as much a part of its work as to prepare men and women for the world to come.

Program Suggested
"The editor of the Christian Century, in editorials of the last five weeks has set forth an idea which is most worthy of being carried out. He suggests that there be formed what he calls a disinterested political party, without candidates, without administration for public office or political patronage through which and by which the church may use its forces for those ideas which for 20 years they have been standing, and by organizing this sentiment they can hold a balance of power without candidates.

"They can support and elect those candidates of major parties who stand for this program without danger of disrupting the organization of the church itself. This method has been tried most successfully through the Anti-Saloon league. They had no candidate and were not a political party. The church here found a means by which they could carry out an idea in which they most firmly believe and were most eminently successful.

"This method needs only a little enlargement in its purpose and goals to be just as successful in accomplishing social justice as it was in securing these instrumentalities, and not only will the essential parts of this program be law but the entire tone of administration and public law will be raised by the very character of the men who will be elected to office and the church will be tremendously strengthened by the adherence by many of those who today look upon the church as futile."

At the conclusion of his address the following resolution was unanimously accepted:

Resolution
"WHEREAS the political parties have degenerated so that their main purpose is to gain the direct and indirect emoluments of political office for their adherents, and

"WHEREAS political parties have forgotten or overlooked the fact that governments are established for the good of all, and

"WHEREAS special privilege is entrenched and the welfare of the many forgotten because of the aims and methods of political parties especially in relation to special and industrial betterment and progress, and

"WHEREAS the church is in danger of losing its leadership—first, because politics is the accepted mode or means of change; second, because it is not having to do with personalities officers and dignities, the church as such cannot enter actively into this sort of strife without danger to its success; third, because progress and civilization is moving around the church and not through it, and

"WHEREAS it is part of the function of the church to lead not only in religious and moral matters but in social welfare, justice and development as well, and

Need Action
"WHEREAS a nation of gross inequalities and sharp contrasts between rich and poor, privileged and unprivileged, such as our social order exhibits, is intolerable to the modern Christian conscience which feels that something must be done, and

"WHEREAS it has been suggested that a party of political disinterestedness might be formed without ambition to hold offices, to distribute patronage or to have candidates, but it would choose candidates from office-seeking parties on the basis of character and personal convictions and have its own platform and offer specific policies, and

"WHEREAS there are many voluntary organizations both within and without the church with high ideals of social justice and welfare which we believe would unite with or support such a politically disinterested party and make it a powerful factor in legislative administrative action for social justice, therefore it is hereby

RESOLVED that we favor and will support a movement having for its object the formation of such a party to the end that the political

Council to Act On Salary Cuts For City Workers

Salaries of all city employees are scheduled for slashing at the regular meeting of the city council, to be held at 7:30 o'clock tonight. Mayor Paul Witmer declared today that the entire list had not been completed today, but that action would be taken tonight. A meeting is called at 4 p. m. today to discuss cuts and to arrange for the passing of a minute order cutting salaries.

City Auditor Lloyd Banks declined to give out a list of names, showing the cuts that had been made, on the grounds that the list was not completed, and he had been requested by the mayor to hold the list until it was completed.

COURTS GRANT DIVORCES TO FIVE WOMEN

Five divorce decrees were granted Friday in two departments of superior court here. Judge G. K. Sowell granted Mrs. Katherine Thorne a decree from Sidney Thorne upon her presentation of evidence that her husband was convicted of a felony in New York in 1925 and is serving his sentence in prison there.

Judge James L. Allen granted three decrees to wives who accused their mates of desertion. Mrs. Virginia Orey was divorced from John Orey; Norma Crandall was given a decree from Glenn Crandall; and Mrs. Rosa Taylor, of Laguna, was granted a divorce from Franklin Taylor on desertion as the second cause for action in her

Standard Pays $306,113 As County Tax

County Assessor James Sleeper announced Saturday that a total of $476,782.35 in unsecured personal property and mineral rights taxes has been collected by his office to date. Of this amount the largest individual payment was made by the Standard Oil company. Sleeper received a check for $306,113.18 from the oil company in payment of its mineral rights tax for the year. In the case of oil companies with sufficient real estate holdings in the county, the mineral rights tax is collected with the real estate assessment.

complaint. She had also accused her husband of habitual intoxication and with calling her vile names.

Mrs. Florence Smith was granted a decree of divorce by Judge Allen from Alex Smith and custody of their minor child when she told the court that her husband was jealous of her and accused her of improper relations with other men. She also accused her husband of refusing her permission to take their child with her for brief visits.

100 Attracted to Lutheran Picnic In Anaheim Park

ORANGE, July 11.—Attended by about 100 members of St. John's Lutheran church, the first annual picnic of the Sunday school, which was organized six months ago, was held yesterday afternoon at Anaheim park.

J. J. Troester, who is acting as superintendent of the school in the absence of Paul Hedder, was in charge of arrangements for the affair. He was assisted by Miss Ella Klausmeyer, Miss Hertha Ehlen, Miss Adele Ehlen, Miss Marie Schumacher, Miss Carolyn Mueller, Miss Catherine Gorath, Miss Lenora Peterana and Miss Gertrude Eggers.

A Bible contest was a feature of the afternoon and this was won by Gloria Sohr, Carolyn Kogler, Loren Lenz, Loren Guenther and Marian Abplanalp of the various classes of the Sunday school. Gilbert Lierman won the potato race and the boys' foot race.

Alice McPherson won a spool-winding contest and Harold Kogler and Clarence Krahnik were winners of a three-legged race. Vera and Verna Miller, twin sisters, won the girls' foot race.

APPEAL FOR SUPPORT OF PRORATA SHIPMENT PLAN BROADCAST TO GROWERS

With the Spence Fruit company signifying its willingness to re-enter the Valencia prorata agreement for this year, members of the Growers' committee met Friday and agreed to continue operations under the pact for at least one more week. An appeal to growers for support of the plan has been broadcast by the Orange County Farm Bureau.

During the next week and before the next session of the Growers' committee an attempt will be made to secure agreements from the M. O. D. organization and the Gold Buckle packinghouse to return to the pact.

It has been asserted by leaders in the movement that unless 50 per cent of the Valencia crop in Southern California adheres to the prorata agreement, the plan of regulating Valencia shipments this season will fail of its objective in saving the industry from going into the "red ink" this year.

Following Friday's session of the Growers' committee R. D. Flaherty, executive secretary of the Orange County Farm Bureau, spoke over radio KREG and outlined that organization's position on co-operation in the citrus industry.

In his talk Flaherty said: "Surplus Problem. 'Agriculture today is faced with many new problems, perhaps the most serious of which is the surplus problem. It is extremely difficult for farmers to curtail production.'

'In every farm commodity, we have a surplus. Our problem now is how can we distribute it so that the farmer can make a living and a fair return on his investment in the production of farm products, and the consumer can be supplied at a price that he can buy it in maximum quantities.'

'Farm organizations throughout the nation have recognized that surplus must be controlled. We in California, where we have successful co-operative organizations, have asked for an opportunity to control our own surplus. Mid-western, eastern and southern farmers who do not have strong co-operative organizations favor the enactment of national legislation, empowering the federal farm board to control surplus under a so-called equalization fee plan which would assess each unit of production of the given commodity its share of the cost of caring for the commodity's surplus.'

'We have a surplus of Valencia oranges. Sponsored by the Orange County Farm Bureau, a committee of orange growers is seeking to develop a plan whereby our co-operative citrus associations, as well as independent groups and chippers can band together in a plan to control surplus. This, we might term co-operation of co-operatives.'

'We believe that this surplus control plan being developed in Orange county points to a new day in the distribution of farm products. The success of this move will be watched throughout the nation. If successful, it should relieve a great deal of the tension and restraint between co-operatives and demonstrate that co-operative organizations are flexible enough so that when the interest of the grower is paramount they can be brought together without in any way detracting from the individuality of each or the individual organization's prerogatives.'

'We have been advised by observers, in a position to know, that no activity of the farm bureau has received such favorable reception since the introduction of the federal reappropriation plan in California. Its success in the end will depend upon the co-operation of the individual growers.'

'It was with a great deal of satisfaction that those of us who have been working for the past several months to bring about co-operation among our citrus marketing organizations, that organizations controlling approximately 81 per cent of the Valencia crop in the 1931 season signed an agreement with each other to prorate and restrict their shipments to market for this season. This agreement became effective June 19.'

'The bringing together of these organizations into a co-operative plan, whereby they would restrict their shipments, eliminating from the market low quality fruit and many difficult problems, and calls for considerable patience and perseverance on the part of all interested parties. At this particular time, the plan is in its third week of operation. It has reached a very critical point.'

'Some Seek Withdrawal. "Three organizations have submitted written notices of their desire to withdraw from the prorate. One of these organizations has, however, submitted a written notice that it had re-considered its action and was now willing to remain in the prorate. It was rather unfortunate that these organizations, after spending months of effort in trying to get together in a co-operative way, would abruptly withdraw from the agreement without first presenting their objections to the plan and trying to work them out in a peaceful and harmonious way. Every effort is being made, at the present time, to reconcile these differences.'

'The citrus industry is a very important one in Orange county. It is an industry with a very high overhead. Practically the entire production of our 55,000 acres of bearing Valencia is shipped thousands of miles across the continent to the eastern consumers. It costs considerably more than $2 per box to pack and ship this fruit, which means that growers have to bring nearly $2.50 per box before one cent of

have to help, only help, pay with the gas tax, the deficit.

We have about 400 foot frontage in the country on East First street on which we've been paying this 40 per cent road tax for years, and in addition, we are paying a special tax for widening the street of $1100 with interest on same, as it had to go to bond. So our special tax payments run from $203.60 in 1927 to $179.50 in 1931, with varying amounts intervening years. It happens we don't live on the street, either, and for weeks at a time don't travel it. Where lies justice?

Your talk may make good campaign stuff, but surely there is no justice in what you propose. It will make the city voter feel abused no doubt though. All I ask of the city auditor is that he point up his mileage for the past 5 years or even for this one of depression, and see what per cent of the mileage is on the country roads, how much in the city limits.

Respectfully submitted,
MRS. J. W. BROMELL.

POSTPONEMENT OF ACTION ON PARK IS ASKED

Sponsors of the plan to create a state park at Huntington Beach have been asked by the board of supervisors to abandon the project for the present. In making this request the supervisors pointed out that in their opinion economic conditions are such that a bond issue for park purposes should not be called at this time. The board has adopted a resolution declaring that it would be useless to submit a bond proposition to the voters of Orange county and requesting the division of parks to abandon the condemnation suit for a park site near Huntington Beach until such time as economic conditions are more favorable.

Commenting on this action today members of the board said that it was their opinion that a bond issue for acquiring a state park at this time would be defeated at an election and consequently the cost of the election would be wasteful.

Plans for establishing a state park at Huntington Beach have been under way for several years and the condemnation proceedings were instituted by the state some time ago. The next step in the program would be the setting of the trial date for the hearing. County Clerk J. M. Backs was instructed by the board to notify sponsors of the project of the action taken by the supervisors and send them a copy of the resolution adopted at the last board meeting. A copy was sent to the state park board.

Subsequent to inauguration of proceedings for the Huntington Beach state park site, one was accepted at San Clemente, with half of the cost being donated by citizens and half paid by the state.

JEFFERS SHOOT 65 AT COUNTRY CLUB

hooks and slides Al's Auto Service Wins First Half

Back in 1927, with the Cardinals for the Tigers and he was not in the thick of a pennant fight, Tommy Thevenow, shortstop, broke his leg. Enter Henry George Schuble, shortstop from the Danville Three-Eye league farm.

Schuble was 19 then, and he had a pretty tough job to fill. His performance was only fair. He hit .257 in 65 games and the only shortstop in the league whose defensive work was worse than Heinie's was Lester Bell. Heinie made 29 great big errors, and some of them cost the Cardinals ball games.

FAREWELL, YOUNG FELLER

It was decided by the astute Cardinal management to peddle young Mr. Schuble. Uncle Frank Navin of the Tigers dug down for $35,000 and Schuble became a Tiger. The next year he was farmed out. The next year he was given a hoe and sent scurrying to the provinces again.

All this time Schuble kept getting better, little by little. But he never quite seemed to fulfill the promise of the folks down in Texas, whence he came, that "he might be only a little guy, but he sure can give that old apple a long, long ride."

Detroit stuck to him, and this year had to keep him on the bench or pass him by for good. Bucky Harris gave him a job coaching at first base and doing an occasional chore of pinch-running.

GETS HIS CHANCE

Still those stories from Texas persisted, about Heinie's hitting ability despite his 5 feet 9 inches in height.

"Sure, he's little," the Texans said of him, "but he'll send that agate on a journey for you, just the same."

Finally Heinie's chance came. Richardson was playing at third

DEFEAT 'CATS' 3-2 BY SCORING IN 7TH INNING

Santa Ana City league baseball officials today closed their books on the first half of a sensational split season after definitely awarding the championship to Al's Auto Service.

Tied by the Green Cat cafe at the end of the regulation schedule, the Servicemen won undisputed claim to the pennant by beating the "Cats" 3 to 2, in a rousing one-game championship playoff at the Bowl Saturday night.

Al's Auto Service got the decision in the last inning, after two were out just when it appeared probable that the contest would go into extra chukkers. Wayne Garlock doubled, took third on a passed ball while Boyle was popping out, and scored when Ernie Jules' twisting grounder rolled through Second Baseman Al Reinold's legs.

The winners set the pace all the way, so the "Cats" had to come from behind to produce a ball game out of it.

"Bomo" Koral's triple and Baker's single gave Al's Auto Service a run in the second inning. Foster Prather blasted a homer in the third, making it 2-0.

The Green Cats got their first run in the fourth when Emmett Seacord doubled, stole third, scored on Bill Middlebrook's single. Francis Conrad's home run in the sixth tied the count at 2-2 before Al's Auto Service made the only unearned run of the evening, but the winning one, in the "lucky seventh."

Full of resolute fielding and pitching, the latter by "Bomo" Koral and Wilson Seacord, the playoff thrilled an enthusiastic crowd. Rebolin and English both contributed sensational fielding plays, and a snappy double play was executed by the "Cats" in the fifth inning to kill an enemy rally.

City leaguers resume the second half of their split race tonight with a doubleheader. South Methodists play the Holy Name society at 7 o'clock, and the Green Cat cafe meets the Elks at 8.

WOMEN TRACKSTERS GATHER FOR TRIALS

CHICAGO, July 11.—(UP)—Final tryouts for the Women's American Olympic track and field team will be held at Dyche stadium, Northwestern university, Saturday in conjunction with the National A. A. U. meet.

Fourteen of the 19 members of the 1928 team will compete for places. "Babe" Didrikson, Dallas, Tex., has entered eight of the 16 events and will try to win the team championship singlehanded. In the Texas A. A. U. meet last week she won eight out of 10 events, tied for first in another event and was second in the other.

California will send 12 stars, among them Lillian Copeland, Maybelle Reichardt, Margaret Jenkins, and Anna O'Brien, all members of the 1928 Olympic team. Among the other prominent entries are Ruth Osborn, St. Louis; Evelyn Purtsch, Santa Ana; Eleanor Egg, Paterson, N. J.; Nan Gindele, Evelyn Hall, Evelyn Ferrara and Annette Rogers, Chicago.

This time there will be only a train ride for the American athletes, except the Californians. The invaders will be the tourists. When a boy of 20 or 22 has not traveled extensively before, it is difficult for him to be a tourist and an athlete at the same time.

But there is another reason why this American team should be invincible. The last year or two has seen the development of a dozen or so of the greatest athletes this country has ever known.

In the sprinters, there are Wykoff, Toppino, Tolman, Simpson, Metcalfe and a half-dozen others who are in the first rank not only among present-day dash men but in the history of the game.

Toppino showed me during the winter indoor season in New York some of the most consistent running I have ever seen and more recently he was clocked 10.4 for 100 meters in New Orleans.

Wykoff has had his troubles this spring, but Dean Cromwell assures me he will be ready. I am expecting much also from Bob

OLYMPIC HEROES OF YESTERDAY and TODAY

The only flat race the United States could win at Amsterdam in 1928 was Ray Barbuti's victory in the 400 meters. Barbuti is shown, right, as he breathed the tape in victory, and you need only one look at his distorted face and distended eyes to know that he wasn't loafing. The sprinting stars of 1932—Metcalfe, Toppino, Simpson, Wykoff and Tolman—are expected to restore the racing glory the United States had in the old Olympics.

PARRA'S HOMER IN 10TH GIVES RICHFIELD WIN

Hitting a home run to left-center in the tenth inning, "Lefty" Parra, crack Richfield southpaw pitcher, won his own game from Santa Ana's Hancock Oilers at Richfield yesterday, 3 to 2. Parra's drive broke up a sensational pitcher's battle with Rolland Shepherd.

Hancock Oil went into an early lead when "Bomo" Koral tripled in the second inning and scored on Friend's single, but Richfield tied the score in its half Parra was hit by a pitched ball and scored all the way from second on a wild throw to catch him stealing.

The Santa Anans regained the advantage in the fourth when Catcher Maldonado of Richfield made two successive wild throws to first, both after strikeouts. The first put Friend on second; the second, on Shepherd, let Friend tally.

Richfield tied the score immediately, and the clubs went into extra innings 2-2.

Next Sunday, Richfield goes to Fullerton and Hancock Oil plays a practice game here with Pico. The box score:

NEW YORK, July 11.—(UP)—Jimmy Foxx of the Philadelphia Athletics and Paul Waner of the Pittsburgh Pirates continue to lead the hitters of the American and National leagues, respectively.

Foxx has an average of .378 and Waner .380, according to figures released today which include games played Thursday. In addition, Foxx continues to lead home run hitters of the American circuit with 25.

"Chuck" Klein of the Phillies continues to lead the National home run hitters with 25.

Stars Await Two Crucial Night Games

With Santa Ana meeting Olive here tomorrow and Anaheim at Anaheim Friday, the National Night league's merry-go-round promises to get somewhere this week.

Santa Ana and Anaheim are tied for first place now, with four victories in as many starts, while Olive, Westminster and Whittier, all apparently out of the second half race, trail behind by two complete games.

Olive's appearance at the Bowl for its last game in Santa Ana this summer, is expected to threaten 1932 attendance records, the contest figuring to draw business from every city in the league, especially Anaheim, which plays the soft Long Beach Acorns.

Always a stumbling block for the Stars, Olive is considered an even bet to break the winning streak of the first half champions just as it did a few weeks ago. Santa Ana went to Olive June 17 with a record of 18 straight wins, and was unceremoniously beaten by the Packers, 6-1.

Manager George Lackaye definitely announced he will send Ira DeBusk, his No. 2 hurler, against Olive this time. It will be the blond kid's second start in a major game. He stopped Anaheim with three hits during the first half.

Shortstop "Memphy" Hill will be back in the Stars' lineup against Olive. A severe cold and a lame shoulder have kept him inactive more than a week.

Templeton is speeding Eastman up for the first half of the 400 meters he will run against Carr, believing Ben can take such a lead that the Pennsylvania flyer with his terrific finish, will fall short.

Carr, in the meantime, is running smoothly, saying nothing, just waiting for the match which is arousing more interest here than any other on the program.

With Eastman probably chosen automatically for the 800-meters, the field will be exceedingly well matched. It will include Eddie Genung of the University of Washington, 1931 National champion; Charles Hornbostel, of the University of Indiana, who won the N. C. A. A.; Glenn Dawson, of Oklahoma; E. Gray, of Abilene Christian; and George Bullwinkle, New York A. C.

Genung won the Long Beach semi-finals in 1:53.9, with 10 yards to spare, and is the logical favorite to take the race here.

However, Hornbostel flashed over the tape in 1:52.7, with Dawson right at his shoulder in 1:52.9, while Gray was but a step behind in 1:53.1. Bullwinkle won the semi-finals at Boston in 1:53.2.

'DINK' COACHES EASTMAN FOR CARR REMATCH

PADO ALTO, July 11.—(INS)—Scores of America's finest athletes, training here for the American Olympic team, swung into their last few practice grinds at the Stanford stadium today.

The final tryouts for Uncle Sam's squad will be held Friday and Saturday.

As each train unloaded a cargo of stars from various parts of the country, officials and coaches became more firmly convinced that

R. L. (Dink) Templeton, Stanford coach, at home for the first time after months in a San Francisco hospital, concentrated on preparing his sensational middle-distance runner, "Blazing Ben" Eastman, for his duel with Bill Carr, the Pennsylvania flyer who defeated Eastman in the I.C.A.A. quarter-mile at Berkeley.

While Eastern college coaches backed Carr to repeat, Templeton took one look at Ben in action and said, "He'll never be beaten again."

Templeton is speeding Eastman up for the first half of the 400 meters he will run against Carr, believing Ben can take such a lead that the Pennsylvania flyer with his terrific finish, will fall short.

Carr, in the meantime, is running smoothly, saying nothing, just waiting for the match which is arousing more interest here than any other on the program.

Gray, of Abilene Christian; and George Bullwinkle, New York A. C.

Genung won the Long Beach semi-finals in 1:53.9, with 10 yards to spare, and is the logical favorite to take the race here.

However, Hornbostel flashed over the tape in 1:52.7, with Dawson right at his shoulder in 1:52.9, while Gray was but a step behind in 1:53.1. Bullwinkle won the semi-finals at Boston in 1:53.2.

CHICAGO, July 11.—(UP)—Pavlo Nurmi, hero of three Olympics who hopes to participate in his fourth at Los Angeles next month, has contracted a mysterious ankle injury. When Nurmi appeared at Dyche stadium, Evanson, with the other members of the Finnish team en route to California, he displayed a swollen ankle and a bad limp which prevented him from working out.

OLYMPIC HOPES

"Wabash Moon" will come out round and shining as never before on the night in August that Henry Brocksmith selects for his triumphant return from the Olympic games to his native Freelandville, Ind.

Freelandville, you may not have known, is a piece about 20 miles from old Vincennes on the banks of the Wabash. From there young Henry went over to Bloomington to study medicine and running at Indiana university. When he departed, Freelandville was left with only 573 persons.

Last year he was just a fair sort of a distance runner. This year he is a nationally-known WOW in upper case. His very last time he broke a 20-year-old collegiate record, and that after indulging in an auto wreck on the way to the Drake Relays at Des Moines, Ia.

It is difficult to figure what event Brocksmith will choose to run in the Olympic trials. The 1500 and 5000-meter runs are open to him, but one is 120 yards short of a mile, which he has done indoors in 4:12.5, and the other is more than one and a half times two miles, which he got down to 6:13 6-16 in the Drake Relays. Steeplechasing, coming in between at 3000 meters, doesn't intrigue him.

Anyway, Brocksmith is an outstanding candidate for the U. S. distance team. If he has to make the team as a 5000-meter runner, he probably can, for in the sectional trials at Chicago he ran the distance in 15 minutes, 26.6 seconds, and that is pretty fast.

IRATE FRENCH FANS MENACE U. S. JUDGE

MARSEILLES, France, July 11.

—(UP)—Street brawls and rioting prevailed in Marseilles today after the crowd at a prizefight last night tried to lynch Dr. James Sparks, commander of the American Legion in France, one of the judges of the fight. He was severely beaten.

The fight was awarded Al Brown, Panama bantamweight, against Kid Francis, Franco-Italian, much to the dissatisfaction of a rough element in the crowd.

After disorders all night, the crowd stormed a hotel, threatening to lynch Brown, not realizing that he and his manager, Dave Lumlanski, had left by a back door and gone to Paris. Fifteen arrests were made.

Lumlanski blamed the disorder on Marseilles bettors who had laid $ to 5 on Francis.

The International Boxing union proclaimed Brown's victory today.

SPORT BULLETINS

CLEVELAND, O., July 11.—(UP)—The board of directors of the American league today sustained the suspension and $1000 fine imposed on Bill Dickey, New York catcher, by President Will Harridge. The punishment given Dickey for striking Carl Reynolds, Washington outfielder, had been protested by Col. Jacob Ruppert of the Yankees.

NEW YORK, July 11.—(UP)—The Italian Olympic team of 107 athletes and 27 coaches arrived here today from Genoa aboard the S. S. Conte Biancamano and was officially received by the Italian consular general.

The youngest member of the party was Coxswain Sher, 17, of the four-oared crew while the oldest, Carlo Anselmi, 39, will be competing as an Olympic fencer for the fourth successive time.

The standout athlete of the group is Luigi Beccali, European holder of the 1500-meter record at 3:52.2.

All the athletes were striking uniforms of steel gray with blue shirts, open at the neck, and similar colored neckties. The shirts were similar to those worn by Italian army aviators.

'SIMPLICITY OF CHRIST' TOPIC IN EL MODENA

EL MODENA, July 11.—The morning lesson at the Friends church was read by the Rev. Schultz, of Santa Ana, who also had charge of the prayer service. The pastor, Rev. James E. Pisk, preached, his subject being, "The Simplicity of Christ." He took as his text II Corinthians 11:1-5, "Would to God ye could bear with me a little in my folly; and indeed bear with me. For I am jealous over you with godly jealousy: for I have espoused you to one husband, that I may present you as a chaste virgin to Christ. But I fear, lest by any means, as the serpent beguiled Eve through his subtilty, so your minds should be corrupted from the simplicity that is in Christ." He said in part: "This is what I want us to do, quit trusting in ourselves. Paul said, 'Bear with me in my folly.' You'll sell the farm, and you'll mortgage the farm, and I want you to trust in Me. We are trusting in our bank account and in our good health. We are afraid to launch out and trust God. Lack ye anything? Do you know that it is just as hard for us to trust in God as long as we have anything to hold on to; when everything is gone, we can trust. How blessed it is, if we with our hands full of worldly possessions can go right on with God, and trust Him. How the enemy has deceived us away. We have put our trust in money. Blessed are the meek and the hungry, and the poor; they have had to wait a long time to be set on high. Man's arms are so short. We are naturally dependent. When our bank account goes and when sickness comes, we begin to reach for God."

SEEK FRUIT JARS FOR NEEDY PEOPLE

ORANGE, July 11.—Because quantities of fruit have been donated to the Orange community welfare store for distribution, and direct to needy families of the community as well, a second call for fruit jars and canning accessories was issued today by Mrs. Lillian Weitenman of the store. Many of the needy people of the district have been benefited greatly by the fruit, which they are eating for immediate and future use. They are provided with flour and other foods so that they manage to get along. Ten sacks of potatoes have arrived from Ontario for distribution among local families. Beans, also, have been donated recently.

There is also a great need for men's clothing, Mrs. Weitenman stated. In addition to local people who are being cared for, there are about 12 transients who come during each day. They are given a sack of food in return for an hour's work chopping wood.

POSTMAN RETIRES AFTER LONG TERM

ORANGE, July 11.—Bringing to a close 22 years of service to the community as a postman, P. I. Bird retired Saturday evening, taking his usual route that day for the last time. He has reached the retirement age with 150,000 miles of travel on the El Modena route to his credit.

When Bird started as a postman in 1910, he was assisted in delivering mail by a horse and an open shay. He has made a host of friends here. The route he leaves will be covered by Mrs. Nate Robbins. Later, it is expected that this route will be consolidated with another.

La Habra Man In Court Tomorrow

ORANGE, July 11.—Charles E. Bemis, of La Habra, who is charged with assault and battery, is to be arraigned in Judge A. W. Swayze's court Tuesday. He is out on $100 bond, having been arrested Friday night when he assertedly assaulted Richard Dugdale. The fight is supposed to have taken place on Los Angeles street near Anaheim. Jose Torrey, of El Modena, who appeared before Judge Swayze July 9 on a charge of possessing intoxicating liquor, was fined $200 or sentenced to 100 days in jail. He is serving part of the jail term and expects to pay the rest of the fine. Fifty quarts of liquor were found at his home at El Modena in a raid conducted by Deputy Sheriff E. E. Perry.

ORANGE PERSONALS

Members of the Business and Professional Women's club will have their second summer meeting this evening at the Doris-Kathryn Tea Shoppe in Santa Ana. Dinner will be served at 6:30 o'clock, followed by bridge. John Fitcher, Garden Grove, spent Friday in Orange.

BIRTHDAY OBSERVED

ORANGE, July 11.—Dr. V. A. Wood's birthday anniversary was the occasion for an enjoyable surprise party given recently in his home, with neighbors as hosts at the event. Several games of "500" were played, with the result that Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Finley held high scores.

At the close of the evening, Mrs. Wood served light refreshments. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Horace Hilyard, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Reed and daughter, Barbara, Mr. and Mrs. Finley and Miss Mary-esther Wood, a daughter of the home.

'HOLY SPIRIT' DISCUSSED BY REV. SORENSON

ORANGE, July 11.—Both morning and evening services are being held at the Orange Mennonite church throughout the summer and yesterday morning's sermon, given by the pastor, the Rev. J. S. Sorenson, was on "The Holy Spirit."

In the morning, the Rev. Mr. Sorenson based his text on Acts 19, 2. The pastor told of how the early church could never have accomplished its God given task without the experience of Pentecost. Even after the resurrection of Christ, the people of the church met together behind closed doors for fear of the Jews. After Pentecost, the scene changed, the speaker said. The people boldly declared the gospel of God everywhere. Imprisonment failed to efface their zeal.

Continuing, the pastor said that the church today is failing to step out boldly before the world and show the way of life. The great need is the experience of Pentecost, he said.

A vocal solo, "If Love Never Knows Any Change," was given by Lloyd Johnson.

In the evening, the Rev. Mr. Sorenson discussed "What Think Ye of Christ," bringing out that there are testimonies throughout the Bible attesting to the fact that Christ is the son of God. Christ gave himself that man might have life, he said. On the cross he prayed for His enemies. He was merciful toward sinners and always had a message of hope and fear, the speaker concluded.

A mixed quartet sang "At Calvary."

VILLA PARK

VILLA PARK, July 11.—Raymond J. Erick and daughter, Barbara Lee, of Whittier, visited Mrs. Elma Lee and Miss Elizabeth Lee, of East Palm street, Orange, recently.

CHURCH WORKERS FORMING NEW CLUB FOR CHILDREN

ORANGE, July 11.—Plans for organization of a children's club, to be composed of children of the various churches of the city as well as all others interested, were made Saturday afternoon at a meeting held at the First Presbyterian church.

The committee in charge, Mrs. Joseph Thacker and Miss Mabel Culter, announced today that the meetings, which are to be held each Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock are to attempt to provide programs for children. The club is to be the outgrowth of the junior church, which up until the summer months has been a feature of the Sunday meetings at the Presbyterian church.

Bible lessons will be given during the first part of the meetings, after which the boys and girls are to have social times. Credits will be given the children for attending Sunday school, reading the Bible and doing special kindnesses during the day. Through their credits, the students may work up to the offices of corporal, lieutenant, etc.

SOCIETY OBSERVES WHITE CROSS DAY

ORANGE, July 11.—As members of the Women's Missionary society of the First Baptist church just recently packed boxes which are now en route to the missionaries in home and foreign fields, they observed White Cross day at their monthly meeting held Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Beulah McClure in Santa Ana.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. Ida Linnell, Mrs. Rowena Welch was in charge of the business session. Reports were given by Mrs. H. F. Sheerer on White Cross work; Mrs. William Gribble, Americanization; Mrs. Horace Newman, C. W. C. work; Mrs. Rowena Welch, program on W. G. work; Mrs. William Patrick, calling committee.

Mrs. W. A. Dillingham, in charge of opening devotionals, discussed "The Talents." Mrs. Horace Newman, program chairman, had chosen "The Face of the World" as the topic for the White Cross program. She was assisted by Mesdames W. A. Dillingham, Ralph Spurlough, Thomas Huffman, William Foskett and John Erickson.

A miniature broadcasting station had been arranged for the women to give short talks representing the missionaries in the foreign fields. They read letters of thanks from the mission fields, expressing appreciation for boxes which had been received previously from the local women.

The next meeting will be an all-day affair on August 12 at Irvine park. Mrs. William Foskett will be hostess at this time, while Mrs. Sheerer will be in charge of the program.

Dinner Observes 2 Anniversaries

ORANGE, July 11.—Two birthday anniversaries were celebrated with a pleasant luncheon given yesterday afternoon in the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Whitsett, 493 South Orange streets, for the occasion marked the 51st birthday of Mr. Whitsett as well as the birth date of his son, Leon Whitsett, of Burlingame, a member of the state railroad commission.

The luncheon was served at a prettily appointed table brightened with summer flowers and ferns. A feature of the last course was a decorated birthday cake.

Those in the group were the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Whitsett, their son, Leon Whitsett, of Burlingame, and Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Potter and son, George, Miss Dorothy Perkins, Mrs. Myrtle Smith and O. P. Smith, of Orange.

The hosts have lived in Orange for the past 25 years, coming here from Los Angeles. They are former residents of Centerville, Iowa.

L. W. BROWN TO GIVE SERMONS NEXT SUNDAY

ORANGE, July 11.—The Rev. Franklin H. Minck talked on "Lord, How Many Times Shall I Forgive?" at the morning service held yesterday at the First Christian church, where he is the pastor. The pastor and his family are to leave soon for Kentucky, where the Rev. Mr. Minck will conduct two revival services.

The pastor stated that it is not easy to forgive but the best things in life are not easy. Christ said to forgive 70 times 7 times and the Old Testament said to forgive three times. Peter was willing to pardon his fellow men seven times. Mr. Minck brought out, Continuing, he said that if man is to be happy he must first forgive those in debt to him, building forgiveness into his life. God pardoned man's errors, and in so doing gave up his Son, the pastor stated.

The anthem for the morning was "Crown Him Lord."

Announcement was made that L. W. Brown will be in charge of the services for next Sunday. Next Sunday will be convention Sunday in Long Beach, where the Christian church convocation starts today, to continue for a week. About 40 members of the local church are expecting to attend during the week.

In this High-pressure Age smokers want a Milder Cigarette

WE LIVE in a fast-moving age. We work harder... play harder... travel quicker. And we smoke more cigarettes.

But there's this about it: They have got to be milder today. In this high-pressure age, smokers don't like strong cigarettes.

About four miles of warehouses are filled with mild, ripe, Domestic tobaccos, stored away to age for two years to make them mild and mellow for CHESTERFIELD Cigarettes.

To make sure that CHESTERFIELD is a milder cigarette, the greater part of 90 million dollars is invested in the tobaccos used in CHESTERFIELD. These tobaccos are "Cross-Blended."

This "Welding" Together—or "Cross-Blending"—permits every kind of tobacco used in the CHESTERFIELD blend to partake of the best qualities of every other type. It's the same principle that Burbank used in crossing different fruits to make a still better fruit.

CHESTERFIELDS are milder... never harsh... and that's why, in this high-pressure age, more smokers, men and women, are changing to CHESTERFIELDS every day.

CARLOS DAVILA WATCHDOG OF 700 MILLIONS

SANTIAGO, Chile, July 11.—When spy little Don Carlos Davila became provisional president of Chile for the second time after a third revolution, he brought to climax a career as amazing as any in South America. And he relieved the minds of American investors with $700,000,000 at stake there.

Nineteen years ago Davila, who had worked his way through law school set out from his little law office in search of a job. His brief career before the bar had been completely devoid of paying clients.

He landed a job on El Mercurio—the oldest newspaper in South America—and closed his little law office for good. Within four years he had become foreign editor of La Nacion, another leading paper, and he immediately introduced changes which revolutionized South American newspaper practice.

Before that time, South American newspapers had been

European in character—long, rambling essays and political editorials filling most of the space available for news matter.

Davila threw out the essays, introduced dramatic and sports pages, carried political news stories instead of editorials, and changed La Nacion into a thoroughgoing American newspaper. Other South American dailies followed.

This abrupt change from established methods is typical of Davila's life. He did not hesitate to make in a few weeks changes which would have taken an ordinary editor years to make.

By 1927 Davila's newspapers had made him a political power in the nation. He was appointed ambassador to the United States, and his record in Washington made him one of the most popular diplomats in the capital.

As ambassador to the United States, he took a leading part in the negotiations for settlement of the Tacna-Arica dispute between Chile and Peru. After a lapse of 17 years, diplomatic relations between the two neighbors were resumed. Davila also had a part in governmental measures in Chile designed to raise the living standards of the worker and to prevent the accumulation of large fortunes.

For example, the government provided old age and illness pensions, and in case of the death of a breadwinner, his salary was continued for two years after his death, and his children then received an annual sum equal to one-fifth of his salary until they were of age.

The Chilean government not only provided free schools but free hospitals.

And when Davila became president after the first "coup" there was small wonder that many persons cried out against a "Red" government in Chile.

As a matter of fact, Davila had given this group some basis for their claims by semi-communistic editorials in his newspapers.

He went out, and then was restored to power by a third "coup."

Once again in power, however, he immediately reassured business concerns that their property would not be confiscated. American investors, who have a $700,000,000 stake in Chile, were relieved, to say the least, and if their influence can keep him in office, he is apt to remain in power at Santiago for many months.

LA HABRA

LA HABRA, July 11.—La Habra boys who left Tuesday for Camp Osceola, Y.M.C.A. summer camp for a 10 day period were Phillip Morris, Paul Butler, Tom Carson, Paul Simmons, Phillip Lippitt, Marie Munoz, Allen Butler, Charles Butler, James Tracy, Rodney Hilbert, Floyd Church and Harold Morris. Judge James L. Allen of the superior court of Santa Ana was the speaker at the La Habra Kiwanis club meeting Thursday noon. His topic was "Functions of the Orange County Courts." Municipal Judge Frank D. Halm, introduced the speaker.

Miss Claudine Zumwalt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burt Zumwalt is confined to her home with pneumonia.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Miller and daughter, Geneva, are planning an automobile trip to New York. They will start their journey upon the return of another daughter, Miss Alvina, who was a delegate to the Eta Gamma chapter of Fullerton to the national sorority convention in Indiana. She is expected to return this week. The Safeway store on West Central avenue underwent a rapid change Wednesday night when workmen worked most of the night transforming this store in a self service market.

Addresses Heard Yesterday In Santa Ana Churches

JUDGE SPEAKS BEFORE BIBLE CLASS SUNDAY

The startling declaration that there is more insanity in Orange county than in Riverside and San Bernardino counties combined, or in Ventura and Santa Barbara counties combined, or in San Diego county, was made by Judge James L. Allen before the Men's Community Bible class at the Fox West Coast theater yesterday morning during his talk on the operation of Orange county courts.

Judge Allen said that he was unable to account for these figures, but that was the way the records revealed them. From five to 15 insanity and narcotic defendants are committed to institutions from Orange county every Saturday, the speaker asserted.

In a preface to his talk on the courts and their method of operation, Judge Allen spoke on the present economic situation and advised his audience to "sit quietly, don't rock the boat, cut corners where you can, and you will come out of the depression with flying colors." Judge Allen also suggested that the class call in various county officials to get first hand information on how the business of the county was conducted.

"The superior court is divided in three departments here, with each judge having equal rights, power and jurisdiction," the speaker said. "The court calendars are made up in five sections and the work is distributed as equally as possible. When a suit is filed it is assigned by lot to one of the three departments for trial. Five cases are set for trial each day, but only two jury trials can be set for the same day."

"Juries are selected in the following manner: Each judge selects 100 names. These are placed in the jury box and 160 drawn for service. Forty are chosen for trial duty each quarter."

"Judge Ames handles the probate calendar. Judge Scoville the juvenile calendar and I take care of the criminal and insane calendar. The civil work is divided between the three departments."

"Something needs to be done with the children today. Court proceedings show that there are more robberies and burglaries and hold-ups by persons between 16 and 20 than any other age. Last Friday there were 20 defendants in criminal court—all under 21 years of age. Parents, it seems, don't and won't correct their children. I have had to send boys to the state school because their parents refused to correct them."

"I won't send boys under 21 to state prison to make confirmed criminals of them. I have been censured for granting probation, but I try to give youth a chance to make good, and it works out in many cases. When I grant probation I tack on a jail term for punishment."

"In order to give prisoners something to do, I started a jail library last fall. It has grown to 1300 volumes and 978 volumes were read in May. Card playing has been cut down two-thirds. They now need books on engineering and life insurance as there have been requests for these and none on hand."

"Another plan that has been

MANY ATTEND OPENING OF EVANGELICAL CONFERENCE IN SANTA ANA YESTERDAY

Nearly 600 delegates and visitors attended the opening of the annual Summer Assembly of the California Conference of the Evangelical church yesterday at the Evangelical assembly grounds at the corner of North Bristol and Fairhaven streets in Santa Ana.

PASTOR TELLS DRIVING POWER OF TRUE FAITH

In speaking of Abraham as one who has been remembered all through sacred history as a man of faith, the Rev. Harry Evan Owens, minister of the First Baptist church, declared yesterday morning that it is so easy to speak of faith as a passive, calm, quiet and rather inoffensive virtue whereas it is a vigorous, dynamic, driving attitude of mind.

"The psychologist refers to it as a 'will-attitude,' he said, 'and it is indeed the attitude of determination that says 'I must.' A man of faith stands before the ideal with the spirit of 'This is the thing to do and I must do it.'"

"You will recall the descriptive statement given by the writer of the Epistle to the Hebrews that faith is the substance of things hoped for. Does that not mean that faith makes substantial and real and vital to a man his ideals and hopes and is never content to leave them simply as an airy ephemeral realm which he lazily contemplates in the dim belief that some day God will bring these things to pass? The man of faith buckles right in to help God make actual these ideals."

"With this as a clew to the meaning of faith we can readily see why it is well nigh irresistible. It moves mountains by reason of its constant 'drive.' So more than being a mere subscription to a creed or doctrinal expression 'faith of our fathers' demands of us the ongoing, conquering attitude of our fathers that caused them to meet any situation as the victors and not the defeated even when it meant suffering and death."

"With such faith then we can redeem lives, with such faith we can bring in a warless world, with such faith we press on as seeing Him who is invisible in a never-say-die crusade to set up love and brotherliness and humanity and mercy in the world in the place of the apparently insuperable evil and selfishness and oppression that have all too often usurped their throne."

started has been to permit young fellows with families to work during the day if they can get a job and spend their nights and Sundays at the jail. This is working out very well and the money goes to support their families. There are now 18 working under this plan."

"I invite you to come to court and see how cases are handled—get on a jury or grand jury and see what's going on."

Edward N. Himmel, M. S., professor of education at North Central college, Naperville, Illinois, who is the assembly speaker, delivered three addresses at the services yesterday.

The subject of the morning service was "Realizing God." "Why have churches?" the speaker asked. "Why go to church. Why set one day in the week to go to church. The great reason is to build up the consciousness of God and to cultivate the spiritual side of our lives."

"What difference will it make in our lives if we do not develop the spiritual? Is this universe just a heartless and impersonal machine or is it a beautiful world home which a loving Father has prepared for His children? If we accept the first, then we may expect those who believe it to grow cold, arrogant, defiant or to be despondent and pessimistic. Humbleness and gratitude will fall like frost-bitten fruit. But if we may believe it is 'my Father's world,' then the soul grows hopeful and courageous."

In the afternoon the speaker spoke on the subject, "Heroes of the Cross." "Ours is a wonderful heritage," he said, "this nation owes a great debt to early circuit riders and missionaries who followed the trail of the early settlers and worked into the very foundation of our civilization the Christian principles of life."

"What is the secret of the marvelous growth and spread of Christianity? The secret is found in Christ's grip on the human heart. His followers have followed the 'perfect life.' All our problems are basically spiritual. The greatest need today is to have our economic, social and political leaders shot through with the spirit of Christ."

"Vital Christianity" was the subject chosen by the speaker at the evening service. "The church now has too many nominal Christians," he said, "like salt that has lost its flavor. They are just as greedy as grabbing, about the souls of others as any man in the world. To be a real Christian means to have the 'mind of Christ.' Then out of that mind shall come thoughts, decisions, choices which are Christ-like."

"The Christian life is the normal life, the useful life, the beautiful life. It opens the door to higher and better things in life."

Bel Canto Club in Concert Yesterday

The Bel Canto club, choral organization of the Southern California Telephone company under the direction of E. M. Waycott, was warmly applauded yesterday when it appeared before the Men's Community Bible class for a special musical program.

Selections which were greatly appreciated by class members yesterday were "Morning," "Trees" and "Let All My Life Be Music." The club also sang at the morning service of the First Christian church.

RENDITION OF RELIGION ITS JUSTIFICATION

Declaring that it is time to recognize that vital religion, like good music, needs rendition alone to justify its worth and that for almost a generation religion has been on the defensive with an atmosphere of saving religion, the Rev. George A. Warner, pastor of the First Methodist church, delivered a stirring sermon yesterday morning.

"Religion is a psychological experience, a transforming power in life, an integrative force for the building of enriched personality," he said.

"Those who have made an exhaustive study of the religions are sure that the distinguishing characteristic of Christianity is its emphasis upon personality. Jesus said that He came to bring abundant life. He did not speak about it in abstract terms. He was concrete, picturesque, poetic, dramatic."

"The genius of Christianity lies in reverence for personality. Whether one is really a Christian or not depends on his acceptance or rejection of Jesus' attitude to personality."

"The church needs a conscience void of offence at this point. What is conscience? It is the sense of oughtness in every life. Conscience says to every mother's son of us in times of decision 'You ought to do the right.' Whether, when following our conscience, we do the right or not depends entirely upon what attitude we have to personality. Doing the right is undertaking that which will enrich our personalities, and, through our service, contribute to the personalities of the social system through which we express ourselves."

"One does not have to go far afield to see vast areas where these standards are largely failing in their application. The two major political parties have recently adjourned their national conventions. They have used prohibition as a smoke screen. One cannot help feeling that it was their intention to hide their lack of willingness to face up to the great human issues confronting our civilization. Shortly we shall become aware that the prohibition problem can only be solved as the human problem is fearlessly considered."

"What of unemployment as winter comes on? What of the necessary economic readjustment that is demanded by conditions? What of the distribution of our wasting surplus on every ranch and farm so that starving children may not be permanently maimed? Why continue saying to the hungry 'You cannot be fed because we have too much?' How can we ever face the future unless we use the same commandeering methods in the assuaging of human suffering that we employed when we went out on the carnival of killing, known as the World war?"

"Unless the president or some candidate steps into this arena as a champion of human rights, many are beginning to feel that a new political alignment is urgently necessary—the building of a great new liberal party based on economic justice and social brotherhood, together with those ideas of temperance and moral reform for which the church has always stood. Said F. A. Horne of New York, head of the refrigeration car service of America, 'progressive business will follow this lead.'"

"With Paul let us make it our earnest endeavor to have a conscience void of offence wherever the personality issue is involved."

"FRUITS OF FAITH" IS SERMON TOPIC

"Fruits of Faith" was the subject used as a sermon by Ida L. Ewing, minister of the National Federation of Spiritual Science Churches, at the regular service held yesterday at the Modern Woodman hall.

"Good thoughts produce rich fruits," she declared, "which are built of the spirit. Law and order are the predominating principles in the universe. Justice is its keynote. Use self analysis and if you are not satisfied with yourself, it

HEEDING UNCLEAN VOICES CAUSES CRIME, MINISTER SAYS AT UNION SERVICE

Pointing out forcibly how "unclean voices" which are heeded by certain people are the direct cause of murder, adultery, propaganda against the Eighteenth amendment and similar things, the Rev. Walter Scott Buchanan, pastor of the First Christian church, delivered a sermon at the union church services at the First Baptist church last night.

The minister took the text of his address from Matthew 17:15 and from John 31, 16 and 17, in his sermon which was entitled, "The Voice."

"Behold, this is my loving son," he said in quoting from the Scriptures, "in whom I am well pleased. Hear ye Him. God's voice is heard on earth through Christ and Christ is revealed through the love of God."

Speaking of unclean voices, the minister told of how unclean demons spoke to Jesus and said, "I know who ye are but are ye competent to destroy us?" Jesus did not come to destroy life but to protect life—to destroy sin and uncleanness of the world. God did not create man to destroy him but to help him. God is the author of life and not the author of death.

"The reason there is so much uncleanness in the world is because people listen to unclean voices and not the voice of God. That is why there is so much murder, adultery and talk against the Eighteenth amendment. The duty of the churches is to make plain the voice of God. The church has failed in not publishing the fact that Jesus is Christ, the Son of the living God."

Quoting from the chapter of John, the speaker said, "I pray not alone for these but for them that shall believe in me through their word, that they may be one, as thou, Father, art in me."

"Unless churches unite as one as Jesus prayed for," he concluded, "we will not be able to overcome the uncleanness of the world."

is never too late to remodel. No man is free who is not master of himself. You are the fruits of the earth, fruits of faith and justice."

BAPTIST DELEGATES ATTEND CONVENTION

The Northern Baptist convention commences Tuesday in San Francisco and will continue through Sunday evening. This is the annual gathering of Northern Baptists and the meetings will be held in the city auditorium.

The local Baptist church will be well represented by the following delegates:

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Fairbanks, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Gutter, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Kyle, Mrs. O. S. Catland, Mrs. W. Aubuchon, Miss Lula Minter, Miss Gertrude Minor, Mrs. Warren Brakeman, Mrs. R. E. Coulter and Mrs. David Meyer.

The Rev. Harry Owens, pastor of the church, planned to leave today to attend the convention. He plans to return in time to occupy the pulpit of the local church next Sunday morning and give a report of the conference.

LOCAL W.C.T.U. TO HOLD MEET TUESDAY

The Santa Ana chapter of the W. C. T. U. will hold a meeting at 1:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in the Supreme Memorial church, it was announced today.

Mrs. Anna Miller will be the speaker of the day and has chosen "Christian Citizenship" as the subject of her address. Mrs. Hattie Scott will lead the devotionals.

Now try CELLO-WAX for floors— it's easy!

Away with the old time drudgery of waxing floors. Now you have the beauty and protection that only wax can give—with one-tenth of the trouble. For Cello-Wax wipes or brushes on—as easily as water. Let it dry and the job is finished. Lustrous, without being slippery, durable as no other wax can be. Use it on hardwood, linoleum, tile, marble, rubber, terrazzo, soft wood, or composition floors of any kind. It is guaranteed to be harmless to the finest surface.

The Cello-Wax film seals the pores and keeps the dirt and dust on the surface where it is easily brushed off. Ordinary dirt cannot adhere to Cello-Wax nor can water, grease or ordinary chemicals penetrate it.

Mrs. Evans is Feted Before Departure For Minnesota

Interested in plans of Mrs. Henry Evans to depart early this week for a summer visit in Minnesota, members of her Golden Rule Sunday school class of Epworth Methodist Episcopal church, South, were delighted to have the opportunity of joining in a farewell party for her when Mrs. Oscar Kurtz entertained Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Kurtz had hidden Golden Rule class members to her home at 440 North Rose street, where she had used quantities of flowers in decorations for the hospitality. Dahlias, carnations and sinias were especially beautiful, and while they are mid-summer flowers in California, they seemed to suggest the Minnesota autumn which will bring Mrs. Evans back to her friends.

Games and conversation sped the afternoon hours and at tea time the hostess, assisted by Miss Irene Anderson and Miss Mollie Matheny, served delicious home-made cake and fruit punch.

Sharing the friendly afternoon with hostess and honoree, Mrs. Kurtz and Mrs. Evans, were Mrs. J. F. Walton, teacher of the Golden Rule class; Mrs. John C. Hoge, Mrs. N. N. Martin, Mrs. F. A. Heemstra and little daughter Joanne; Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Soloman, Mrs. McGee, Mrs. J. A. Barger, Mrs. Farr, Mrs. Maude Cox, Mrs. P. E. Dooley, Miss Irene Anderson, Miss Mollie Anderson and Miss Mollie Matheny.

Damascus White Shrine Has Busy Summer Schedule

A variety of summer plans for the next few weeks were outlined by Damascus White Shrine members at a well attended meeting held in the Masonic temple Friday evening following a dinner, by Miss Sadie Mae Smith, missionary recently of Burma; "Back to the Front" by Miss Gladys Black, soon to return to her mission work in Manila, on the Philippine Isles, and an address by Miss Sarah Bosworth, a third mission worker.

In the course of the business session following, over which Lillian Vinscoe, worthy high priestess, and James A. Tarryell, watchman of the shepherds, presided, arrangements were made for a picnic to be held Friday, July 25, details concerning which will be made known later. Announcement was made that the patrol team of the White Shrine would visit the Hollywood White Shrine Friday, July 15, when all White Shrine patrols of Southern California will be guests of that organization. The Hollywood gathering will represent the first public appearance of the Damascus Shrine drill team, whose performance will be watched with interest by members of the Santa Ana order.

An evening of cards had been planned by Mrs. Hugh Henry, chairman of entertainment, and many of the members lingered for the games, held in the lounge of the temple. Suitable prizes were later bestowed upon Mrs. W. G. Lewis, Mrs. J. H. Shaw and Mrs. Walter Edkins, first, second and low scorers, and Elton Roehm, H. Whisenand and James Vinscoe, who held similar scores among men entrants.

Members of Friday night's refreshment committee included Mesdames Florence Evans, chairman; Gertrude Demetriou, Clara B. Cook, Clara Daughenbaugh, Avis E. DeVore and Maude Edkins.

S. A. Missionary Folk Await Arrival of Delegates

Officers of the Pacific branch of the Women's Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal church, representing the vanguard of that body, are expected to reach Santa Ana tomorrow to attend the executive session of the branch cabinet, which will occupy most of Tuesday, prior to the quarterly conference of the society, on Wednesday. Executives will open their sessions at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning in the First M. E. church at the corner of Sixth and Church streets.

Santa Ana officers of the local Methodist Missionary society were busy today forwarding arrangements for the reception of the 300 expected delegates, of whose entertainment they will have charge. Working with these local executives in the interests of the quarterly meeting will be the entire Santa Ana organization. Official hostesses will be headed by Mrs. H. W. Guthrie, president; Mesdames J. Frank Burke, Norton Palmer, C. E. Kellogg, S. E. Hearn, A. H. Theale, J. D. Harp and other officers.

Wednesday's meeting, opening at the church at 8:30 o'clock, will consist of reports from the several branch officers, these summaries to be followed at 11:15 o'clock by an address by Bishop S. W. Robinson of India. A nominal charge will be asked for the luncheon to be served at noon, a social period which will be followed by an afternoon program to open at 1:30 o'clock with a prayer by the Rev. George A. Warner, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church of Santa Ana. Music by the Dorcas Choral club of the latter church will relieve a program of afternoon addresses, to include "Observations of a Traveler," by Mrs. Alfred Matthews, of San Francisco, branch president; "From Lands Afar," by Mrs. B. Dudley Snudden, corresponding secretary of the society; "Home From the Front," by Miss Sadie Mae Smith, missionary recently of Burma; "Back to the Front," by Miss Gladys Black, soon to return to her mission work in Manila, on the Philippine Isles, and an address by Miss Sarah Bosworth, a third mission worker.

The Clyde Cooks Greet Various Friends in Idyllwild Cabin

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde D. Cook, whose marriage of June 18 was of such general interest, are pleasantly situated in Idyllwild for the summer months, where they are entertaining their Santa Ana friends at frequent delightful house parties.

Mrs. Cook will be remembered as Miss Edith B. Alton, daughter of Robert Alton, 1415 West Fourth street, and both she and her husband are members of the Santa Ana high school faculty.

Mr. Alton is a member of the little family circle in the mountains, and the group plans to remain until the opening of the autumn term of school calls the two teachers back to their teaching duties.

For the holiday week-end, the hosts entertained in their pleasant cabin, a party of friends from Alhambra, including Mr. and Mrs. Homer W. Anderson and small son, Scotty, and Julian Scott.

S. A. Women to Indulge Talents on Painting Trip in Sierras

A painting colony high in the Sierra mountains was established last week when Mrs. Lewis S. Moulton of El Toro, and Mrs. W. W. Perkins and Mrs. John Knox of Santa Ana, rode with a party of fellow artists, to an elevation of 10,000 feet for a month of painting and criticism under Edgar Payne, famed California artist. Leaving last week with camping accoutrements, painting equipment and provisions for a four weeks' outing, the Santa Anans were to climb via Bishop, to a lake near the summit of the Sierras for their first location. From this site they planned to move about from spot to spot, choosing lake locations where possible. Gull lake was to be one camping site, while various waters in that region will afford spectacular backgrounds for the artists.

Members of the small party include aspiring painters from various parts of Southern California, with Mr. Payne and his wife and with those growing nearby, and the menu was a feast of Mr. Stafford's favorite dishes. It included two delicious birthday cakes, one baked by his daughter, Mrs. Jack Palmer, and the other by one of his sons, Nelson Stafford.

In this happy family circle were the birthday host, E. P. Stafford, and Mrs. Stafford, their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Palmer of Hollywood with their children, Norman and the Misses Adele, Frances and Mollie Palmer; Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Stafford of Costa Mesa, with three of their four children, Donald, Nelson Jr. and Miss Dorothy Stafford; Mr. and Mrs. Willard Stafford and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Stafford Jr.

The only member absent from the family circle was Leroy Stafford, one of the Costa Mesa grandsons of the hosts.

Church Official Board Members and Wives Hold Park Party

Members of the official board of the First Christian church, together with their wives, joined in a pleasant social affair on Friday night of the past week, when, well-laden with baskets of picnic fare, they motored to Irvine park for dinner and a social evening.

There were fully 25 couples present to share the good fellowship of the occasion, and the delicious dinner menu when contents of the different baskets were spread upon the long picnic table. The officials headed by George G. Gidd, chairman of the deacons and their wives were happy to welcome their pastor, the Rev. W. S. Buchanan, and Mrs. Buchanan, whose presence came as a surprise. For the Rev. Mr. Buchanan had been in Los Angeles at a meeting of the committee on arrangements for the dedication of the new California State building, and his return in time for the park party was unexpected.

Women who know values choose one becoming style and stick to it, developing as many dresses from the same style, but in different colors, as their needs demand.

I have applied this same rule to my department, and this week the leaflet offering is a FIVE-IN-ONE COOKY RECIPE, each one perfect, and all of the recipes available; free of charge all week, if you will mail in your 3-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Put the contents of both cans into a double boiler and add to them the same amount of boiling water, using it to rinse out the cans. Let the soup heat slowly and when steaming hot add the butter, salt, pepper and pinch of soda. Milk must be heated in another sauce pan and is added just before serving. Stir the soup well and add just a tiny bit of garlic salt to bring up all the flavors.

In each soup cup drop a good pinch of minced parsley, pour the hot soup over it and serve with hot butter toast strips.

For hot evenings a soup of this type followed by a generous serving of crisp cool fruit salad, something cool to drink, would be all any reasonable person could ask for in hot weather.

Too many icy-cold foods in hot weather are productive of intestinal disorders. See to it that at least one hot nourishing dish appears on the dinner or supper menu.

In the six servings this soup recipe provides (cream soup cups) there will be found some 550 calories. Proteins, the body-builders, and fats, the energy-makers, divide the honors, and tucked coily away behind the tomatoes will be found a stray vitamin.

Each cup estimated at 160 calories, toast at 250, fruit salad at 350 and milk or ice cream at 125 bring the total to 885 calories for the meal.

Three Sons, Daughter Conspire in Happy Birthday Plans

Although Mrs. E. P. Stafford was aware that her three sons and her daughter were making happy plans for the celebration of their father's seventeenth birthday anniversary, Mr. Stafford himself remained in such complete ignorance of the plans that their fulfillment yesterday upon his natal day came as a delightful surprise to him.

The conspirators and their families assembled in the family home at 119 Edgewood road, while Mr. and Mrs. Stafford were at morning services in their church, the First Presbyterian. Their return home was the signal for a whole shower of greetings, and the call to the birthday feast which was served in the garden to the rear of the home.

Trees and greenery serve to screen the garden from the adjacent street, and give it the privacy and seclusion that make it a delightful spot for such entertaining. The dinner table was decked with flowers to harmonize with those growing nearby, and the menu was a feast of Mr. Stafford's favorite dishes. It included two delicious birthday cakes, one baked by his daughter, Mrs. Jack Palmer, and the other by one of his sons, Nelson Stafford.

In this happy family circle were the birthday host, E. P. ## FIVE FEATURE PROGRAMS TO BE BROADCAST

Five feature programs are scheduled for the next 24 hours over radio KREG. Two of these features will be broadcast tonight and the remaining three are on the schedule for the early hours Tuesday.

The Charles Halway Insurance agency will offer a special feature program tonight at 7:30 o'clock dedicated to the children of Orange county and their parents. Little Louise Johnson will entertain on this program with a group of songs and readings, and a special surprise will be announced for all children listening in. This surprise is well worth while, according to studio officials and every child who hears the announcement will be pleased.

The other Monday night feature will be the dinner hour program by Aaron Gonzales, from 6 to 6:30 p.m. Gonzales who is an outstanding pianist-composer, plays during the dinner hour every Monday, Wednesday and Friday night. The Musical Masterpiece program is broadcast at the same hour on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. Tonight's program will feature request music received by Gonzales recently.

Tomorrow morning the Little Church of the Wildwood program will be devoted to the W.C. as usual on Tuesdays. The speaker for this week's program has not yet been announced.

At 11 o'clock Tuesday, on a program sponsored by The Sporting News the story of how Jimmy Fox made good, will be told.

Later in the afternoon Chas. and Bramley will be on the air with another successful program. This team secured an immediate hit with their first program and expect to repeat their past triumphs. Warren Bramley is said to be one of the outstanding comedians on the air.

INSIDE STORY OF HOLLYWOOD WELL LIKED

A vivid vignette of Hollywood and its environs, replete with the glamour and striking color of the "nation's most picturesque city," is authentically presented in RKO Pathe's new Constance Bennett starrer which opened at the Fox Broadway theater last night. A host of screen luminaries is responsible for the splendid portrayals among the supporting cast. Lowell Sherman as a director couples a barrage of laughs with effective drama that is emotionally touching; Gregory Ratoff contributes sheer comedy as a producer, and reveals his talents as humorist with the equal finesse of his drama of "Symphony of Six Million." Neil Hamilton is the clean-cut lover, brilliant in his depiction of Miss Bennett's husband.

Every phase of film colony life from work to play is frankly revealed in this tale relating the meteoric rise of a waitress to the heights of success as a film star. In "What Price Hollywood" you may dine in the Brown Derby restaurant, loll on the sands of Malibu Beach, or attend a swank premiere at Grauman's Chinese theater. If you prefer, you can visit the studio to see a picture in the making, spend an afternoon at a Beverly Hills mansion, swim in its luxurious ultra-modern pool, ride on its bridge path, promenade on Hollywood Boulevard or view a horse race at Agua Caliente.

Frank Revelations of Filmdom

Familiar phrases about a "million dollar cast" takes on new relevancy when applied to "Grand Hotel," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's adaptation of the Vicki Baum stage play, which will be the attraction at the Fox Broadway theater Wednesday and Thursday, July 20 and 21. Director Edmund Goulding dealt literally with a million dollar cast in making the picture, the salaries of the Metro luminaries running well into that figure. "Grand Hotel" will be shown twice daily. All seats are reserved. Seats are now on sale at the box office.

San Clemente's Auxiliary Third In State Contest

SAN CLEMENTE, July 11.—In the recent state emergency mobilization of the American Legion posts and auxiliary units, the San Clemente Auxiliary took third honors, according to word received here by Mrs. James Bennett, president of the auxiliary. The San Clemente unit mobilized in 13 minutes with its full personnel except Mrs. Helen Wolfe, who was out of town on the day of the mobilization call. In 1931 the San Clemente unit took first honors. First prize was awarded to Fred Whitaker unit No. 372. Second honors were divided by Rialto unit and Beaumont unit while the San Clemente auxiliary took third prize with a percentage of 93.

ed! Even if I did I couldn't write anything worth while. Honestly, Cherry, I can't do it tonight! I tell you I'm all in."

"But, Dan, if you're ever going to write there has to be a beginning."

"Say—I didn't know you were such a slave driver! What kind of a frameup is this, anyhow?"

Cherry was disappointed. "It's only that I wanted to help," she told him.

"Then you'll have to do your helping some other time!"

He went out a little later saying he had "promised to call one of the boys." It was 10 o'clock before he returned. The next evening Dixie dropped in and they played three-handed bridge. The night following Dan had an evening assignment.

It began to look to Cherry as though her husband's literary career was a long way distant. Then there came a Sunday—the second in June—when the drizzling rain had begun in the morning settled to a continuous downpour. Dan was home for the day. He had now spent Sundays with Cherry. Clad in an old bathrobe he sat at the typewriter and began to bang the keys.

For almost three hours he worked steadily. Then, with a loud exclamation, he slumped back in his chair.

"What's the use?" Dan demanded. "I can't write anything. This stuff is terrible! It's—oh, it's a mess!"

Cherry crossed the room. "Can I read it?"

"If you want to. I don't care what you do with it so long as I don't have to see it again!"

He jumped up, strode to the dressing room and five minutes later was busy shaving.

Cherry read the manuscript. It was little more than a character sketch, a confrontation between a taxi driver and a lunch counter attendant in a cheap, open-air night place. Gus, the driver, had opinions on many subjects and seemed to be something of a hero to his friend. Their conversation was terse, colloquial, and much of it Cherry could not understand. There were vague allusions to underworld activities.

She read on. Pearson was right about it. Dan did have an original way of putting things. She came to the fourth page and there the narrative broke off in the middle of a sentence.

"But, Dan!" Cherry exclaimed, "this is interesting! Why didn't you finish it? I want to know the rest!"

Phillips appeared in the doorway, made a gesture of disdain. "Oh, I'm sick of the thing. Tear it up!"

Cherry folded the sheets hurriedly and put them away. There was no more writing that day or the next.

Late Wednesday afternoon Cherry was summoned downstairs. She cried out at sight of the man who was waiting in the hallway.

"ATTORNEY FOR DEFENSE" SEEN AT WEST COAST

Daring, debonair and politically ambitious as the district attorney who turns to defend criminals instead of prosecuting them when he finds he has sent an innocent man to the chair, Edmund Lowe interprets one of the most powerfully dramatic characters of his long and successful screen career in "Attorney for the Defense," a Columbia picture, showing today at the Fox West Coast theater.

The life of a man whose creed was hate and whose hobby was women is set against the most dramatic background that could have been selected to give realistic substantiation for the complete change in his character and his position when he puts an innocent man to death—the famous Criminal Court in New York City. Every man he sent to the chair meant a step nearer the Governor's seat for Burton (Edmund Lowe), and every woman he loved was just another pleasant pastime. The climax of the story finds Lowe on the spot—on trial accused of murder, and brilliantly conducting his own defense.

"BAT WHISPERS" ENDS RUN TODAY

The thrill picture of the year closes tonight at Walker's State theater. It is "The Bat Whispers," featuring that dynamic young actor, Chester Morris.

When the "bat" whispers, the audience sits spellbound. The production is a succession of dramatic, mystifying situations with scarcely a pause for breath. The comedy moments are splendid.

Genuine laughter is provoked by three fun-makers drawn from the stage.

Una Merkel provides the feminine interest. Superbly acted by its all-star cast, the picture sends each audience out of the theater amidst a flurry of excited comments over the picture's unusual merits and dynamic power.

LEAP YEAR BRIDE

By Laura Lou BROOKMAN

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Cherry Dixon, pretty 19-year-old daughter of her parents, is a love with Dan Phillips, newspaper reporter. She quarrels with her father about Dan, leaves home and taking advantage of Leap Year, asks Dan to marry her.

They are married and for the first time Cherry finds out what it means to lack money. Her struggles with housework and discipline Dixie Shannon, movie critic of the News, is friendly with Cherry. She meets handsome Max Pearson, who also works on the News.

Cherry receives a letter from her mother enclosing a check for $500. She returns to her father's home and pride will not let her keep it. A young woman living in the same apartment building attempts a suicide and is taken to a hospital. Cherry sends the girl some flowers and while down town meets Pearson who invites her to luncheon.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER XXIV

Max Pearson studied the menu. "Like scallops?" he asked. "All the sea food is very good here."

How handsome he looked today. Cherry, meeting Pearson's eyes, glanced down again quickly at the card before her.

"I'll have the shrimp patty," she said, "and watercress salad. Coffee later."

They were in a restaurant new to Cherry. It was an attractive place, obviously more expensive than the establishments she and Dan patronized. Cherry looked about and noticed there were more men than women diners. All of them were fashionably, prosperously dressed. The restaurant had a subdued, quiet air that was a relief from the street.

Pearson seemed thoroughly at home there. The waiter who took the order greeted him as an acquaintance of long standing.

"Now then," Max said when the question of food had been settled, "tell me what you've been doing?"

"Just the usual things. Trying to remember to salt the potatoes and how to open a can without cutting myself. I'm still one of the world's worst cooks!"

"You are—" Pearson began and then checked himself. He did not finish the sentence but said, "Where's the waiter? I want him to bring some matches."

He began talking of the office and Cherry was interested. The sense of wariness—the feeling that she must be on her guard with Pearson—left her. There was no use telling herself that she should not have been there. Cherry knew very well that she was enjoying this luncheon. It was pleasant to sit across the table from such an attractive, entertaining young man and it was certainly a treat to eat food that she had not herself prepared. Yes, she was enjoying the luncheon.

She told Max about the kitten and he seemed amused at her description. Somehow Dan's name entered the conversation. Cherry had a sudden inspiration. She leaned forward.

"There's something I'd like to ask you," she said. "I've wanted to talk to someone about it for a long time. I believe you're the person."

"Fire away!"

Pearson was holding a lighted match to the tip of his cigarette. His eyes, intent on the flame, did not waver.

"It's about Dan," the girl went on earnestly. "I want to know if you think I can write. I don't mean just things for newspapers."

I mean do you think he might be able to write short stories or a novel? Dan says there isn't any future for him in reporting. He wants to write for magazines—maybe books. Do you think he can do it? I don't mean right away but some time. Do you think he can do it if he works hard?"

The cigaret was glowing now. Pearson, exhaled a cloud of smoke before he answered.

"That's a difficult question," he told her. "Hard to say. Practically every newspaper man in the country—woman too—is sure that he or she can turn out the great American novel. All they need is a little time. A chance to get away from the grind and write. They keep talking about it for years but somehow few of them ever get anything done. Oh, I'm not saying all this about Dan, understand! I'm talking about the great majority. You see writing is hard work. I know because I've sold a few myself."

He mentioned a couple of essays that had appeared in a magazine of high literary standing.

"They'd take more too," he went on, "but I just can't seem to get to work. Lazy, I guess."

"But about Dan—" Cherry persisted.

"He's clever," Pearson went on. "Dan's written some swell news stories. His an original way of putting things. I don't honestly know if he'd be any good at fiction though. I didn't know he'd ever tried it. The only way to find out if he can make the grade is to try. He'll have to be willing to work!"

"Then," said Cherry slowly, "that will have to be my part. To help him work."

"It's discouraging business," Pearson warned. "Even the most successful authors get lots of their manuscripts back. When you're beginning you have to expect rejection."

The girl nodded. "I suppose so," she agreed. "I suppose so."

There was quiet between them interrupted by the appearance of the waiter. He placed ice before them and poured the coffee.

"Look here," said Pearson briskly when they were alone again. "I've just had an idea. Didn't Dan say the other evening that you like to drive a car?"

Cherry smiled. "I love it!"

"Then here's my idea. That bus of mine stands in the garage more than half the time. I never use it during the day except on Wednesday. That's my day off from the office. I'll tell them at the garage they're to let you have it whenever you want it."

"Oh, but I couldn't—"

"Couldn't what? You could certainly drive it, and there isn't a reason in the world why you shouldn't. Dan's one of my best friends, as you know. I'm sure he'd like to have you get out more."

"It's awfully kind of you," Cherry said, "but I really can't."

"You mean you don't want to?" Obviously he was hurt.

"It isn't that. I mean—well, I don't think I should."

"Oh, so you're the sort of girl who thinks appearances are more important than anything else? Well, what's wrong about you driving my car?"

What indeed? Somehow Cherry couldn't answer the argument. Pearson had just given a delicious lunch. She could not offend him.

"I'll do it," she agreed. "It's—certainly very kind of you."

He told her the name of the garage and where it was located. "One of the boys will drive the car out for you," he assured her. "They're darned obliging. That's the reason I keep it there. How about using it this afternoon?"

She told him she could not. She had left the apartment in a hurry and there were a dozen things to be done. Suddenly she thought of the kitten.

"Poor little Pinky," she exclaimed. "He'll be starved. Oh, I'll have to go right away!"

Pearson look at his watch. "Time for me to be getting back, too," he agreed.

They walked down the street a block together. Cherry thanked him for the luncheon and said goodbye. She was smiling as she boarded the wrong about Max Pearson, she told herself. "He only wants to be friendly and helpful. Oh, it's going to be wonderful to have a car to drive again!"

True to prediction, Pinky was feeling neglected when Cherry arrived home. He came running toward her on his slightly unstable legs, meowing as loudly as his little lungs would allow. Cherry picked him up, filled a saucer with milk and watched the kitten's milk and at the same time made in it.

She told Dan that evening about lunching with Pearson and about his offer to loan her the roadster. "Darned nice of him!" Dan told her. "Didn't I say Max is a prince?"

"But do you really think I should, Dan?"

"Why not? Max would be hurt if you refused. Of course it's all right."

Cherry was silent for a minute. Then she said, "He told me something else today. Max thinks you can write. I mean short stories—or a novel maybe."

"Did Max say that?"

Cherry nodded eagerly. I've been thinking about it all afternoon and I'm going to help by having everything out of the way so you can get to work as soon as dinner is finished. I won't let any one interrupt. You can begin tonight."

Phillips protested with a groan. "Hey, wait a minute—wait a minute! I don't want to sit down before a typewriter tonight. I'm tired."

2000 Hear Shuler Speak In Fullerton Tabernacle

MIDDLE CLASS RULE URGED BY L. A. MINISTER

FULLERTON, July 11.—Declaring that he can name five men in United States, who, if they released their personal holdings, could start all the factories and place all unemployed to work, the Rev. "Bob" Shuler, candidate for the U. S. Senate, declared that the real issues in the coming election are "bread and the right to work for the laboring man, and the right of free speech for all," to an audience of more than 2000 at the tabernacle. The tabernacle was filled.

Shuler said he was making no attempt to appeal to the prejudices but that the middle class of people must save their government, founded by people who left autocratic government, where they "made bricks without straw, and handed the profits to those higher up."

"I know what I am talking about," Shuler declared. "Misgovernment, autocratic misgovernment, the efforts of the powerful and rich to stick money in their own pockets, has brought about this condition, and the result is that 40,000,000 persons in this country are practically on a dole, that does something to the souls of men that can never be rectified."

"For the first 50 years of our government, there was but one millionaire in United States. Our presidents and legislators were chosen from among the working classes. I say we need another rail-splitter for president of the United States."

"Now our presidents, our other officials, are chosen from the millionaire classes. The present presidential nominees on both tickets are millionaires. We have just finished having a billion dollar secretary of the treasury. I don't claim millionaires are bad. I just claim their viewpoint changes when they get to be millionaires."

Andrew Mellon held office eight years. He forgot the people, and while 10,000,000 men walked the streets, out of work, with no food, he made a fortune in South American oil."

E. E. Long, candidate for state assembly, presided at the meeting. He announced that Dr. Michaelson will speak at the tabernacle at 2:45 next Sunday afternoon.

Student Released From Jail After Liquor Fine Paid

LAGUNA BEACH, July 11.—E. Merrill Leavitt, New York student, is free after spending several days in the city jail on a possession charge, fellow students having collected $50, City Judge Montrose LeStrange accepting that amount as a fine after suspending $100 of a $150 fine and a 60-day jail sentence.

Judge LeStrange says an attempt was made by long distance telephone from Pasadena to influence him in the case. While these activities were in progress, six other students, who had occupied a house on Manzanita Drive with Leavitt, who was arrested following a police raid resulting from numerous complaints of disturbing the peace, tried to raise the amount of the fine. When they succeeded in raising $50, the boys went to Judge LeStrange and said that Leavitt had nothing to do with obtaining the beer found in the house and that he had volunteered "to take the rap."

The fact there was no evidence of any attempt to sell the liquor. C. C. Williams, proprietor of a fish market, whose trial on a possession charge was set for July 12, changed his plea to guilty and was fined $200 and given a jail sentence of 100 days, to be suspended if the fine is paid.

RECEPTION IS PLANNED FOR NEW MINISTER

YORBA LINDA, July 11.—The Rev. Crawford Trotter, newly appointed pastor of the Methodist church, succeeding the Rev. Grover Ralston, who has been transferred to Garden Grove church, preached both hours yesterday in the morning calling his congregation to united and consecrated effort to make the greatest achievements for Kingdom enterprises.

He lamented that critical attitudes still exist among Christian workers in some parts. He spoke against aimless wanderings in church activity, and against fractional indulgence in individual practices in theology and methods of church work.

At the evening service, the young people of the church were given a special message.

The Rev. Mr. Trotter came to Yorba Linda from Banning, where he served in the Methodist church three years. He is residing at the parsonage with his wife and his three sons, aged from 13 to 8.

His education was completed at the Wesley college, Dublin, Ireland, and at the University of Southern California, Los Angeles, and during his many years experience in religious work, he has engaged in journalistic branches, having been assistant editor of the Epworth Herald, editor of the Missionary News and press representative of the Methodist Board of Home Missions, as well as a writer for many publications.

Miss Olive Gale sang "The Lord Is My Rock" and the choir sang "Seek Ye the Lord" as special musical numbers.

A reception will be given the new pastor and his family and a farewell courtesy paid to the Rev. and Mrs. Ralston and family Tuesday night at the social hall of the church.

BENEFIT SHOW SET FOR TUESDAY NIGHT

GARDEN GROVE, July 11.—To-tos's Merry Marionettes will be the feature attraction at the benefit show to be sponsored by the Unemployed association in the Washington school auditorium Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock.

Numbers will be presented by local talent including music by the Rocky Mountaineers, composed of Ralph Frisby, J. A. Crowell, L. D. Deaver and S. Tibbels. This group recently commenced broadcasting over radio station KREG.

Tickets on sale by members of the local committee, may be reserved at Darling's Pharmacy.

Buena Park Post Election Aug. 5

BUENA PARK, July 11.—The annual election of officers of the American Legion post will be held August 5. Nominees are Richard Nelson and John Parker, commander; Virgil Oranhood, first vice commander; Harold Bell, second vice commander; Oscar West and I. D. Jaynes, finance officer; Dave Stocks, historian; Richard Cowan and S. W. Stapleton, chaplain; J. A. Fenton and Guy Miller, sergeant-at-arms.

GETS 155 YELLOWTAIL
SAN CLEMENTE, July 11.—Fishermen on one of the live bait boats at San Clemente over the week end caught 155 yellowtail, according to R. E. Jeans, proprietor of the fleet.

PASTOR URGES HATE FOR WAR, LIQUOR, GREED

BREA, July 11.—The Gospel of Hate was the topic chosen by the Rev. David E. Gaylord of the Brea Congregational church Sunday morning. Choosing as his text, Psalm 97:10, "Ye that love the Lord, hate evil," the Rev. Mr. Gaylord said in part:

"Christianity is usually considered the gospel of love; but this text requires another gospel also. The gospel of hate. In loving we have forgotten to hate. Nothing justifies the hatred of people, but we are justified with hating with all our hearts the old liquor traffic and the evil of the saloon and its attendant evils. Utterly godless, the saloon of hopelessness, of cruelty. How can we have forgotten those wasted lives; men and women with broken homes and starving children?"

"What is the menace of alcohol doing to us? In the time of saloons, Chicago contributed to delinquency among women of 40,000 per week, through the influence largely of the saloon. How can we look leniently on liquor as some do?"

"The next thing is the god of Mammon. Things and more things until we want so much. What it is doing to us now did not just happen. Human greed put us here and we ought to hate it. Perhaps it may personally touch us lightly but greed put us where we are now. Terrible things are happening through cases of want in 40 miles from us and perhaps nearer, and we must hate this evil."

"The third thing we must hate is war in all its bestial brutality of the ghastly thing it now is. We must hate it. How terrible to send men to butcher each other. War calls for an undying hatred. Ask any man who knows what causes the present depression of affairs all over the world and he will say 'War.' Men starve in the streets and the United States spends 65 per cent of her income on wars. We must teach our children to hate all these things. To hate the saloon, which is the hope of the wets. Our children never saw the saloon, while the movies teach the smartness and the attractiveness of drinking."

"What we are going through must be overcome and our children will not remember it. But will we? We must never forget it. Our children must hate. They must hate mammon and war. God willing they may never know what it really means, but they should learn to hate it. Usually we have a war each generation, because the children are allowed to forget. In prosperity the children think they should have two automobiles, and radios and three electric ice boxes to accommodate all their needs."

"I am not trying to open-mindedness; a very fine and necessary quality, but it has its place. I hate open-mindedness applied to kidnapping and murder, and liquor drinking and selling. If we found a venomous snake in the back yard, should we sit around and talk about open-mindedness as to whether we should kill it or not? Reason is not enough. It is all on the side of those who hate these things, liquor, greed and war, and we must hate them. These things are ruining men's lives and starving the soul of the world. Only when we perfectly hate them can we perfectly love God and man."

Several weeks ago Lively was arrested on complaint of his father, George T. Lively, who asserted that Tom had struck his own mother. When taken before Judge LeStrange late at night he was released on his promise to appear the following morning at 9 o'clock. He did not show up but did appear several days later when a third complaint of assault against him was withdrawn. Nothing was said at that time about his failure to appear. In the meantime his parents had moved from town. Yesterday Judge LeStrange held him for contempt of court for failure to appear as promised and suspended a 90-day jail sentence on condition that he leave town.

"If you are seen in Laguna Beach in that time," declared the court, "you will be picked up and serve the sentence."

Wife Of Pastor Shower Honoree

BUENA PARK, July 11.—Teachers of the Junior department of the Congregational Sunday school honored Mrs. W. I. Newman with a handkerchief shower at the home of Mrs. Jesse Gill on Orangesthorpe avenue recently.

The Rev. and Mrs. W. I. Newman are to leave August 1 for Berkeley, where they will study at the Pacific School of Religion. Gifts were presented in a miniature parasol reversed to hold the presents.

Guests for the breakfast and luncheon were Mrs. Newman and daughter, Ruth, Mrs. Justin Spohn, Mrs. Lester Schofield, Mrs. W. B. Shaw, Mrs. Nellie Bastardy, Mrs. R. D. Bacon, Mrs. Rosa Hartman, Mrs. O. A. Stone, Mrs. C. E. Reid and Mrs. Gill.

H.B. Rancher, 72, To Preach First Sermon July 17

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 11.—Alexander Cameron, 72-year-old rancher living near Huntington Beach, will preach his first sermon at Memorial hall at 3:30 o'clock, July 17.

The service will be interdenominational and persons not attending church services are especially invited to attend. An orchestra of young men and the Baptist church choir will take part in the service.

HOLD WEINER BAKE

TALBERT, July 11.—A weiner bake entertained a group of 12 relatives at the ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Farnsworth recently. Included in the picnic party were Mr. and Mrs. Percy Lawrence and sons, Glenn and Ralph, and daughter, Marian, of Westminster. Mr. Farnsworth's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Farnsworth, brothers, Cecil and Elmer Farnsworth, and sister, Marie Farnsworth, of Santa Ana.

250 Expected At Pythians' Session In Tustin Tuesday

TUSTIN, July 11.—Approximately 250 Knights of Pythias are expected to be in attendance at the district convention to be held tomorrow night in the K. of P. hall, Walter Perroz, chancellor commander, announced today.

Grand Vice Chancellor Handy, of Los Angeles; Grand Preceptor Goldstein, of San Francisco, and Grand Chancellor Ellis, of Long Beach, are scheduled to be present and will assist in the ceremonies of esquire rank. The four candidates to receive the rank of esquire are Luther E. Miller, Dan Rooney, M. McMichael and Ira Price.

A 10:30 o'clock dinner will be enjoyed in the banquet hall.

MAN ORDERED TO LEAVE COMMUNITY

LAGUNA BEACH, July 11.—When Tom Lively appeared before City Judge Montrose LeStrange on an assault charge, he received an unpleasant shock. The complaining witness failed to appear and Chief of Police Abe W. Johnson announced that the man could not be found. Judge LeStrange dismissed the case. As Lively started to leave court the judge halted him.

"There is another little matter we have to settle first," announced the court.

Several weeks ago Lively was arrested on complaint of his father, George T. Lively, who asserted that Tom had struck his own mother. When taken before Judge LeStrange late at night he was released on his promise to appear the following morning at 9 o'clock. He did not show up but did appear several days later when a third complaint of assault against him was withdrawn. Nothing was said at that time about his failure to appear. BAD PRACTICE
LOS ANGELES—(UP)—Zachariah Mellus could drive his car ahead all right, but he couldn't reverse. So he tried backing it for a few blocks. He backed right into a policeman.

WOMEN'S CLUB IS SPLIT OVER CHURCH FUND

SAN CLEMENTE, July 11.—At a special meeting of the Solano Woman's club of the Community church of San Clemente at the home of Mrs. James Bennett, president, Mrs. Bennett resigned as did Mrs. Emma Ochener, secretary and Mrs. Arthur Adair, treasurer. But the lines were drawn when a certain group in the organization sought to turn over $348.85, a community church fund, to the newly organized Federated Community church, of which the Rev. Dr. T. C. Moffett is the head. The officers, who did not favor such a move, then resigned.

At the meeting Miss Olive Sherrard, vice president, was elected temporary president and Mrs. E. L. Holloway became secretary. No treasurer was elected. The fight against Mrs. Bennett was led by Mrs. E. R. Bartlett, a former president of the club; Mrs. E. L. Holloway, Miss Unice Templin, Miss Olive Sherrard and Mrs. Monroe Thurman.

The group, led by Mrs. Bennett, favors giving the money to the Episcopal church, to the chamber of commerce and using part of the fund for civic betterment projects in the Spanish village.

About two years ago a drive was started by the Solano club to raise money for a community church. Various organizations, including the chamber of commerce, assisted in raising the money. Shortly after the drive started the Episcopal church erected St. Clement's By-the-Sea, which became known as a community church with the Rev. Robert Hogarth of the Episcopal faith officiating. Upon erection of this church the chamber of commerce, which had charge of the community church fund, turned that fund over to Mrs. Bennett of the Solano club.

Spanish Village Men To Get Work On New Gas Line

SAN CLEMENTE, July 11.—Spanish village laborers will be used on construction of the gas main by the Southern Counties Gas company in San Clemente from San Clemente to Oceanside, according to word received here by Mayor Thomas F. Murphine. City Engineer W. A. Ayer will have charge of the work of laying two miles of main in the city.

Post, Auxiliary Give Dance Soon

SAN CLEMENTE, July 11.—The American Legion post and auxiliary of San Juan Capistrano and Doheny Park will stage a masked costume dance at the Dana Point auditorium July 16.—There will be prizes awarded and a feature of the hall will be 20 pipers from Santa Ana. Money for the dance will be used to send delegates to the state convention at Oakland in August.

PASTOR, WIFE HONOR GUESTS AT RECEPTION

GARDEN GROVE, July 11.—A farewell reception was tendered Dr. and Mrs. Floyd J. Seaman in the Methodist Episcopal church parlors Friday evening. Dr. Seaman, who has served a three-year term at the local church, has been transferred to the Grace Methodist church, Los Angeles. Dr. and Mrs. Seaman left today for the new charge.

Mrs. S. C. Oertly was chairman of the program committee. Peder Prior gave the opening speech and called on the Rev. J. M. Richmond to offer prayer. Mrs. S. V. Holt sang, "The Old Road," by Scott, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Irvine German. Mrs. Velch Tournant gave two readings, "The Old Sailor," by Milne, and "Advice," by Widdemer. A violin solo was played by Irvine German, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. German.

Mrs. G. R. Reyburn gave a talk in appreciation of the work accomplished by the pastor and his wife, and both Dr. and Mrs. Seaman responded. The program closed with a short speech by the Rev. J. M. Richmond.

During the social hour refreshments were served to nearly 100 members. The church parlors were decorated with baskets of gladioluses, dahlias and shrubbery.

IN THE INTEREST OF ALL

The Board of Education of our city has done some good work in reducing expenses for this coming year. The Board is to be congratulated. It indicates that the members realize the importance of the obligation to cut costs. Some people may imagine that there is too great a cut, possibly, but even with this cut, we are $140,000 in expenditures in excess of the expenditures of 1926-27, namely, five years ago. It is a reduction over that of 1930-31 of about $34,000, but a decrease over 1931-32 of $179,000. We hope, if conditions keep anything like they are, that the Board will certainly plan to make the reduction down to the 26-27 budget, a year from now.

We believe that the city council is endeavoring to cut the costs of government also. But the only way they can cut such costs is to cut them, and it must be done very seriously.

We would urge upon the members of the council to remember when groups are appealing to them for some special expenditure, that there are literally thousands of people who, if they knew the facts, would appeal to them not to make such expenditure. Think of the great masses of the taxpayers, and not of the particular few who are to be favored by a special expenditure!

A good rule to adopt and adhere to is that no money belonging to the taxpayer, should be appropriated for any purpose other than that directly to do with governmental functions, and which is necessary for the carrying on of the city government. It makes no difference whether the amount is $25, $50, $500 or $5000. The principle should be adhered to, and it is easier to meet objections when principles are definitely laid down, than it is to attempt to discriminate between various ones appealing for public money.

When a precedent has been established that the city council will favor certain groups with taxpayers' money, it encourages other groups to make appeals. But if all are treated absolutely alike, and the position is assumed that no money except that which is necessary to carry on the work of the city government will be paid out, no one can feel that he is discriminated against.

It is no day for luxuries. Institutions which we might enjoy, and be willing to pay for in ordinary times, must be eliminated now. A few cents a hundred sounds very small, and the argument of the special pleaders for amounts always will tell how small this particular amount will be for each taxpayer. But after all, it is the aggregate of these amounts that makes the burden unbearable.

Many times the favored ones who urge the expenditure, afterwards will have greater confidence in the members of the council when there has been a refusal instead of a granting of the request.

Incidentally, we want to call attention to the fact that the expenditure for the Bowl of $20,000, not only was a tremendous aid to the unemployed, $14,000 of which went directly to labor, but it has already paid the interest on the investment, and there will be some taken in to pay on the principal investment before the end of the season.

We want to congratulate the city council on this work, and urge them to adhere most rigidly to the rules which seem to have been governing their attitude.

Well, we have Jacob S. Coxey, now mayor of Massillon, Ohio, and the "General of Coxey's Army," as a presidential candidate. This is at the head of the Farmer-Labor party. Coxey obtained his place "in the sun," and he has kept it pretty much of the time since that day. He accumulated property. We do not know whether he still has it. But he wasn't so foolish as he looked.

A LIFETIME OR TWO

Dispatches tell us that the number of centenarians in the nation is on the wane; that there is a reduction of them since 1920 of some 1300.

The average longevity of people has been increased. But whether it has or not, the length of time that a person lives, determined by experiences and not by hours, is a great deal longer today than ever before.

If one lives in deeds and not in hours, in this fast-moving age, we may well say that one has lived several times as long as one did in the time of Washington, in the same number of years.

SECRET AGREEMENT AT LAUSANNE

The news now comes out of France that France expects the United States to make war debt slashes in proportion to cuts made at Lausanne. Premier Herriot is reported as declaring that the validity of this agreement at Lausanne is dependent upon America's joining in a supplementary agreement.

With the attitude of Congress upon these debts, it would appear that this Lausanne conference, which reached an agreement, and from which so much was hoped, would amount to nothing. It would appear that the Lausanne agreement is to be approved by the French Chamber of Deputies before it becomes valid, and they will not approve it unless the United States takes such an attitude as will insure that this country will assume a great deal of what Germany has saved by the agreement.

This is based upon a secret agreement between Britain, France and Italy, binding the three powers not to ratify the Lausanne accord until a satisfactory agreement is reached with the United States. If the United States accepted the program in proportion as Germany's payments were reduced, we would have to pay our war debts from $11,000,000,000 to $110,000,000. This would place a burden of more than $10,000,000,000 upon American taxpayers.

The attitude of Congress, and probably of the country, is utterly opposed to such cancellation. And the citizens of the United States are in ill humor to consider a cancellation of this proportion, and the added burden that this would entail at this time.

We have been among those who have not believed that this terrible war debt would ever be paid. We have felt that the rehabilitation of the world's business would come more speedily, and it would help us in the end more to cancel the debts, than it would to keep the nations out of balance, in a constant turmoil, and under the depression through the effort to get the debts paid, which would be impossible in the end, in any case.

As the nations can pay only in goods, as a business proposition, it would not be helpful to American industry to receive this vast amount of goods. But we know in expressing this conviction, we are expressing it contrary to the sentiment of most of the people, though we believe it is in harmony with the conclusions reached by most of the economic writers.

If the stability of Germany's government is based upon this cut in reparations, and that is only assured by America's accepting the conditions, we are afraid for Germany's future.

It would appear, from the statement of Bishop James Cannon on the Democratic plank, that the leading "dry" Democrats of the country are "madder" at the Democrats for their "wet" plank than they are at the Republicans, and the leading "dry" Republicans are "madder" at the Republicans for the "wet" plank than they are at the Democrats. It is a case of where the "drys" in each camp feel that they have been injured in their own home. Family quarrels are the most sour of all.

CANDIDATES SPARRING

The correspondence between Governor Roosevelt and President Hoover, in relation to the St. Lawrence river navigation power project, is a sparring match before the real fight begins. Roosevelt took occasion to get into the limelight, and emphasize his support of this water-way, under the guise of asking for a conference, and Mr. Hoover slyly suggested at the end of his reply that he was glad to know the project, which he, Hoover, had favored for many years, meets with Governor Roosevelt's approval.

THE POT AND THE KETTLE

We used to think that life rather balances up in its joys and sorrows; in its punishments and rewards. We have changed our mind on this, however. We know it is not always true.

We wonder what Aimee's husband, David Hutton, feels in regard to the law of compensation. He knows in his heart whether he has received it or not. So does the woman in the case. But unfortunately, they are the only two who are certain, and they differ, at least in their statements of what justice is.

FLORIDA IN THE NEWS

One would think, on reading the story of the torture by guards and death of a prisoner in the sweat box in a Florida prison camp, that he was reading the stories of the Spanish inquisition. Cruelty, medieval in its character, is evidently practised upon prisoners, and it is not the first time that Florida has been in the limelight, due to this terrible condition. It is time that Florida showed some indication, in respect to its treatment of criminals, that it at least recognized that it is a part of the United States.

Exploding a Masculine Myth

Men have been shown to have so many inaccurate opinions about women that another more or less may not matter. But it is of interest to learn that the masculine idea that women are the chief patrons of drug stores has been proved erroneous by an official survey. Men patrons outnumber the women by about fifty per cent.

The average man has had himself think of a drug store as a place where women oscillate between the cosmetics and the chocolate soda. But the fact is that men outnumber women at the soda fountain. And the feminine minority's second choice is not cosmetics, but candy. All this goes to prove that women do not, as men have held, go to drug stores on errands largely related to the art of personal beautification.

For this important information on a highly engaging subject the public owes its thanks to the United States Department of Commerce.

TO A WREN

I wish I understood your tongue—
I do not envy, it is true,
The speech you use to chide your young
Or that which you employ to woo.
But I would gladly know the words,
The stern expressive language that
You fling at predatory birds
And also to a prowling cat.

I hear you from the orchard fence,
Irate, excited and severe,
Directing fervid eloquence.
At every Tom that happens near.
I almost see your feathers shake
In thin with your indignant heart,
And I am certain that you make
Profanity a perfect art.

The cat, of course, can lay no claim
As he lurks yonder in the wood
To any sort of sense of shame;
He'd kill and eat you, if he could.
But though he never may evince
A semblance of internal fears
I once or twice have seen him wince
When you poured curses in his ears.

I know, could I employ your speech,
Although it is more sound than sense,
That very shortly I might reach
That sounding heights of eloquence.
You are no gifted orator,
You never speak a single word.
But you can say a whole lot more
Than many a statesman, little bird!

We was eating breakfast and ma said to pop, Did you read P. Willis Hinkle's article last night, Willyum? It was quite inspiring, a lively game of tag, hide-and-bene-factors and it went on to say that the greatest public bene-factors are not the people whose names fill the papers with big print on every lip, they are the people who see their duty and do it quietly with only the unseen applause of their consciences. In fact P. Willis Hinkle says the noblest public benefactors of all are the ones that are never heard of and who go down to oblivion rapped in their own modesty, ma said.

Giving me a deer, and I thawt, G. if she only forgets her ring like she genrally does I can hide it and then I'll think she's lost it, and then I can find it and put it back again without saying a word to her and she'll never know who the public benefactor was.

And I kept on watching her and she forgot her ring all rite and went in her own room and I quick snuck in the bathroom and stuck ma's diamond ring in my pocket, and I herd ma coming back and I just had time to jump out in the hall out of site, and I herd ma looking around the bathroom talking to herself, saying, Now, that's a funny thing, that's really strange, I could of sworn I layed that ring rite here on the basin, in fact I made up a slite rime so as to be sure not to forget it again, let's see, yes I remember, here I lay my ring on the basin, just before I put my face in. So that proves it, but on the other hand, like I herd around I'd have some clew, but this is absolutely mistifying, she said. I'll look in my bedroom, but I remember the rime, basin, face in, O, deer, if I've lost my diamond ring, she said.

And she went in her room to look and I quick snuck in the bathroom and put the ring back on the basin and jumped back in the hall again, and pretty soon ma came back to the bathroom again and saw it, saying, Well I declare I must be either losing my site or my senses, well anyway the relief is all mine, bleeve me.

CONVENTION VERSUS CLINIC

A while ago I sat in a box directly across from the speakers' stand in the Stadium at Chicago as the National Democratic convention swung into action.

Duty kept me tied to my desk when the National Republican convention some days earlier marshaled its forces in the same stadium.

But, for the purpose I have in mind today, I am sure the Republican convention did not differ essentially from the Democratic convention.

As I watched floor leaders for competing candidates darting here and there among the delegations, as I found myself eavesdropping without conscious effort the talk of little clumps of men as they gathered near the box in which I was sitting, and as I mingled with the delegates and their dictators in the lobby of my hotel, my mind went vividly back to an experience I had some months ago in one of America's greatest medical centers.

Someone very dear to me, afflicted with what seemed an obscure but proved to be quite obvious and simple malady, was in the hands of this famous clinical center.

The "leaders" of this clinic met in consultation. I sat with them and watched their minds work. A problem was before them. Their first move was to analyze the problem, to break it down into its constituent elements, to run the gamut of all conceivable causes.

In an utterly objective manner they eliminated one possible cause after another. Finally they tracked the cause to its lair. And then they set scientifically to work to relate cause and effect and to devise the simplest, most direct, and promptest way of removing the basic cause that had produced the undesirable effect.

They did not ask what anybody or any group might think, they did not argue competing medical dogmas; they did not shout any professional slogans; they did the two things a great doctor always does: (1) they analyzed the problem to find the cause of the trouble, and (2) they took prompt steps to remove the cause.

If we could only convert our political conventions into political clinics!

Despite the epidemic bafflement of our time, the causes of our politico-economic difficulties are fairly simple. A direct mind knows what should be done about tariffs, war debts, the reformation of our credit system, prohibition, industrial planning through broad functional organizations, international relations, the relative importance of pushing or postponing the exact balancing of the budget, and so on.

But direct minds seem anathema in politics!

I predict with confidence that four more years will witness a rising tide of resentment against conventions that cannot function as clinics.

Brother Jack was bemoaning his lost romance to his sister. "Yes, it's all up," he said. "I've loved and lost."

"I suppose you got the ring back from her?" said his sister.
